DOMINION-WIDE CITY RELIEF REFERENDUM URGED

Sir A. Chamberlain Former Minister Succumbs In London

Ex-foreign Secretary, Who Was Member of Commons For 45 Years, Passes in 74th Year

Half-brother Of Exchequer Head

Canadian Press

London, March 16.—Sir Austen Chamberlain, K.G., died of a heart attack at his home in London tonight.

He was seventy-three years old.

As Foreign Secretary Sir Austen negotiated the treaty of Locarno. For this work the late King George V conferred on him the highest honor in the gift of the crown—a knighthood of the Garter.

ELDER STATESMAN

Sir Austen, after relinquishing office when the Baldwin administration was overthrown in 1929, remained in the House of Commons as an elder statesman.

He repeatedly spoke in the debates leading up to the present rearmament programme, and at times did not hesitate to criticize his former colleagues.

Sir Austen spoke in the House as recently as a few days ago.

Sir Austen was the eldest son of the great Joseph Chamberlain, and was a half brother of Rt. Hon. Neville Chamberlain, present Chancellor of the Exchequer.

He first entered the House of Commons forty-five years ago and first entered the government as a junior minister in 1895.

Twarted twice ain attaining the ambition of his political career—leadership of the Conservative Party in Great Britain—Sir J. Austen Chamberlain rose to greater heights as Foreign Secretary in the second government of Rt. Hon. Stanley Baldwin.

Of all the statesmen who devoted themselves to European peace after the World War, Sir Austin evolved the plan regarded as providing the greatest degree of security and which eventually brought into being the Locarno treaties—which were effective till Hitler remilitarized the Rhineland.

The British Foreign Secretary entered into negotiations in March 1925, with Aristide Briand and Dr. Gustav Stresemann, foreign ministers respectively of France and Germany. In them he found sympathetic proponents of his plan. The locarno conference then assembled and adopted the treties. In one of them Germany, France and Belgium agreed never to wage war upon each other, Great Britain and Italy signing as guarantors of the treaty. Others involving Germany, Poland and Czechoslovakia were signed to guarantee peace on the eastern border.

With Charles G. Dawes, Vice-President of the United States, Sir Austen shared the Nobel Peace Prize for 1925.

Three Planes On Pacific Flight

Associated Press

Oakland, Calif., March 16.—Mrs. Amelia Earhart Putnam announced today she would hop off tomorrow on her globe-girdling flight, and it appeared likely she would be accompanied on the 2,400-mile leg to Honolulu, by two Pan-American clipper planes.

Miss Earhart will have three male aviation experts with her as far as Honolulu.

Thus, it appears three big planes will be "racing" to the Hawaiian Islands.

Three Killed In Plane Crash

Pilot C. B. Holmes, Formerly of Vancouver, Among Victims of Imperial Airways Accident in Germany

Associated Press

Croydon, March 16.—Officials at Croydon Airport announced receipt of word today that an Imperial Airways liner carrying C. F. W. Wood, European manager of the lines, and a crew of two had crashed near Cologne, Germany, all three being killed.

The other two aboard were the pilot, Capt. C. B. Holmes, who formerly flew in Canada, and the wireless operator, C. E. Langman.

LIVED AT OTTAWA

Canadian Press

Ottawa, March 16.—Capt. C. B. Holmes, reported killed in the crash of an Imperial Airways liner near Cologne, Germany, was well known here as a flier and aviation official. For a number of years he was inspector of civil aviation connected with the Department of National Defence.

ITALY-SPAIN INVESTIGATION

Canadian Press from Havas

London, March 16.—The French Government has demanded adoption of non-intervention measures in connection with the recent alleged debarkation of 35,000 Italian troops in Spain, authoritative sources declared today.

London agreed, however, to instruct British naval authorities at Gibraltar to open an inquiry, it was said.

Queen Mary at Parade in London

Accompanied by the Princess Royal (Countess of Harewood) and the Earl of Harewood, Queen Mary attended the annual St. David's Day parade of the Welsh Guards at Wellington Barracks, London. She performed the ceremony of presenting a leek, the Welsh national emblem, to an officer of the Welsh Guards. The Princess Royal and the Earl of Harewood are seen in the picture above behind the Queen Mother.

Residual Awards in Irish Lottery on Grand National Decided; Others in Dominion Win $500 Consolation Prizes

Canadian Press

Dublin, March 16.—Two Canadians today drew cash prizes of $31,115 each as the Irish Hospital Sweepstake draw continued.

The residual prizes went to "New Snow Joe Baliah," with ticket NM77276, and to "Fortunate" with ticket ES18482.

Only the noms-de-plume of the Canadian winners were given out. Yesterday, the first day of the draw, sixty-five Canadiens drew horses, worth at least $3,000 each, whether they start or not, and a lot more if they finish first, second or third in Friday's Grand National Steeplechase at Liverpool.

Besides the two residual prizes drawn by Canadians today, seven went to the United States and one to Europe.

DRAW $500 PRIZES

Sixteen hundred consolation prizes of $500 each were also drawn, and a Canadian, "Ringworm," with ticket QN29503, was the first out of the big drum.

Other winners of $500 consolation awards: "Dumbell," BR58417; "Ave Smacke," LD89144; "Santa Claus," PM03014; "Prince Pagan," DIP12404; "I Need It," MB34407, "296 D," RQ62437; "In the Bank," N54514; "Help," BN80526; "Hard Luck Harry,"

"H" for a "P" Means $3,000

Victorian Thinks He Has a Horse in Irish Sweep But Not Certain

The simply letter "H" may mean a difference of $3,000 to David Miller, 788 Hillside Avenue.

When Mr. Miller looked over the drawings for the Irish Sweepstake in last night's paper he came across a ticket LH57828, the non de plume "Golden Miller," on a non-starter, Lazy Boots.

He became interested immediately for he had used part of his own name in his nom de plume, which he made "Golden Miller." Then he checked his ticket and found it read LP57828. Just a "P" in place of the "H."

This was one time Mr. Miler sincerely prayed that the paper was wrong. If the "H" was a misprint it meant $3,000 to him, the prize for a non-starter.

And he still did not know this morning whether he had drawn a horse.

"I hadn't had any telegram before I left for work this morning. I'm going to keep after the telegraph office to see if there is a message for me," he said nonchalantly. "If not, I guess the paper was right. Anyway, its a strange coincidence."

Falls From Sill On Passer-by

Vancouver, March 16.—Two persons were in a hospital here today because one of them fell from the windowsill of a downtown store.

Albert J. Dennis lost his balance while cleaning a second story window. In falling he struck Mrs. B. Stromme on the sidewalk below. Neither was believed seriously injured.

Police Take Over Relief Office

Premier of Quebec Says Documents Needed in Montreal Inquiry Are Missing

Canadian Press

Montreal, March 16.—Thirty members of the provincial police entered the offices of the Unemployment Relief Commission here today and took charge of the building. The action, it was said, was taken in connection with the inquiry into finances of the commission and sifting of accusations that documents of the commission have disappeared recently.

STATEMENT BY PREMIER

Quebec, March 16.—Premier Duplessis, Attorney-General of Quebec, announced today "ruinous and intolerable abuses" had led to the closing of relief administration headquarters in Montreal, with seizure of all relief commission records.

Making clear relief recipients would receive their cheques as soon as possible, the Premier said it had been decided to place provincial police officers in the office because records required for an inquiry into relief administration "have been disappearing mysteriously."

RAIL WAGE GAP IS UNBRIDGED

Spokesman For 117,000 Workers on Lines in Canada Says No Negotiations For Compromise Yet Attempted

Canadian Press

Montreal, March 16.—Howard B. Chase, union spokesman for 117,000 Canadian railway workers, said today "there has been no suggestion of a compromise and no negotiations for a compromise" in the dispute between the two railways and their employees over wages.

Mr. Chase will preside at a meeting of the general conference committee of eighteen railway running trades unions here Thursday at which the ballots of 117,000 railway workers will be considered. The men were asked to give the committee power to call a strike if such should be held necessary. The ballots were returnable yesterday.

APPEAL FROM MINISTER

While other union officials, already here for informal conferences preceding the general meeting, maintained their strict silence, they had before them the plea of Hon. Norman M. Rogers, federal Minister of Labor, for a "just and peaceable" settlement of the dispute.

Goering in Radio Address Makes Reference to Attacks From Within

Associated Press

Berlin, March 16.—Col.-General Hermann Wilhelm Goering, Germany's air minister and virtually second in command of state, made a sensational and unexplained reference in a radio speech today to "those who believe, as a last resort, to overcome Germany through murder and cowardly attempts."

In some quarters the phrases were interpreted as a sensational intimation that a possible attempt on the lives of leading personalities of the Nazi regime might have come to the government's attention.

The general, whose functions are virtually those of prime minister, was speaking in commemoration of the second anniversary of Germany's regained "arms equality."

WARNING GIVEN

DRIVE AGAINST NAZIS IN U.S.

Associated Press

New York, March 16.—Propelled by an explosive public outburst against Chancellor Adolf Hitler of Germany and his political philosophies, a drive against Nazis in the United States crystalized today in an attempt to obtain the arrest of one of their leaders.

Major Julius Hochfelder, in behalf of the German-American League of Culture, announced his determination to seek a warrant for the arrest of Fritz Kuhn of Detroit, whom he described as the head of "an alien military organization," on a charge of violating New York's penal laws.

Hochfelder was scheduled to go in Yorkville, New York's German community, today to ask the arrest of Kuhn and two of his aides on the charge they had failed to file with the Secretary of State a certificate disclosing the purposes of their society, the Amerika-Deutscher Volksbund.

Kuhn has denied the organization is affiliated with the German government and asserted its aim is the opposition of Communism.

Mayors, In Session In Ottawa, Hear Proposal Of Winnipeg Council

Resolution to Be Voted on Urges People of Every Municipality Declare at Polls Before September 1 If They Consider Relief Is Financial Responsibility of Federal Government; Mayors of Regina and Saskatoon Propose Dominion-provincial-municipal Commission

Canadian Press

Ottawa, March 16.—A "strike vote" of Canadian municipalities against continuance of their present participation in the burden of unemployment relief was proposed before the conference of mayors here today by Alderman E. D. Honeyman of Winnipeg.

A referendum should be held in all municipalities before September 1, 1937, as to whether the municipalities consider relief a financial responsibility of the Dominion Government, he said.

If the answer were in the affirmative then the municipalities should state whether they were prepared to discontinue participation in unemployment relief after September 1, 1937.

PREVIOUS RESOLUTIONS

Resolutions had been passed at the last two conferences, said Alderman Honeyman, but they had apparently been pigeonholed. His resolution, he said, was a democratic way of bringing the question to a head.

"We think we speak for the people, approximately 5,000,000 of them," he said. "The authorities in Ottawa occasionally say they want to know the will of the people. Let us inform them. Let us get together, hold this referendum and let the chips fall where they will."

There was no use passing the same pious resolution year after year, then going home feeling they had done their duty, he told the delegates.

SENT TO COMMITTEE

His resolution, along with others, was referred to the resolutions committee.

Municipalities, said Alderman Honeyman, had no control over the causes of unemployment so they should not be saddled with its effects. The Dominion might as well have disclaimed its responsibility for the war and shoved the war debt off on the municipalities.

"We can't go on," he said. "We in Winnipeg had to curtail our services 33 1-3 per cent. Our employees have been cut 16 2-3 per cent, as no other civic employees have been.

DUTY OF COUNTRY

To trace responsibility for the burden was a major duty which the whole country should undertake. The city of Winnipeg saw the end of the road before it already, he said.

"Right now we are being carried by the grace of the Bank of Montreal," he said. "I don't know how the Bank of Montreal got its reputation as a business organization when we can't pay and we never can pay."

COMMISSION PLAN

Mayor A. C. Ellison of Regina, seconded by Mayor R. M. Pinder of Saskatoon, introduced a resolution urging all political parties and all governing bodies to unite in an effort to deal with unemployment.

He proposed a commission of Dominion, provincial and municipal representatives to define powers and duties of each in dealing with unemployment; to define fields of taxation to be allotted to each form of government to provide funds to carry out its obligations; to prepare a plan for restoring and maintaining the solvency of provincial and municipal governments; to prepare a plan for standardization of relief and relief administration as far as possible.

TO RAISE FUNDS

A national corporation, supported by some government guarantee, was also proposed to raise funds and supply credits to carry out public works of useful character and to fin-

Border Patrol To Be Stopped

Attorney-General Adopts New Method For Collecting Car Licenses at Crow's Nest

B.C Police will discontinue the practice of stopping motorists at the Alberta border to check up on their licenses, Attorney-General Sloan said today. Instead, they will erect large signs at the entry points in the Crow's Nest area notifying motorists that they must report at the nearest police office to have their plates checked.

This plan was adopted, Mr. Sloan said, after objection was raised to the system of patrolling the border to collect licenses. Several people coming into the province complained they had been stopped and forced to buy licenses. The Attorney-General explained that only those coming to live in the province had been required to take out plates.

"We hope this new plan will remove any irritation there may have been in the other method, which was simply to facilitate collection of licenses for the motorists and the government," Mr. Sloan said. He warned, however, that outside motorists found in the province without their proper licenses would be prosecuted in the ordinary way.

NEW AIR MAIL

Edmonton, March 16 (Canadian Press).—Final preparations were under way today for the inaugural flight of the first regular air mail service to link Edmonton with the Peace River area, scheduled to take off from the municipal airport at 10 a.m. tomorrow, it was announced by Major R. W. Hale, superintendent of postal service in Edmonton.

Royal Family To Pay Ex-king

British Government Will Not Make Grant to Duke of Windsor

Associated Press

London, March 16.—The British government will not pay an allowance to the Duke of Windsor, presentation of King George VI's civil list message disclosed today.

Instead, the royal family, from its own pocket, will make an allowance to former King Edward VIII.

There was no mention of the Duke of Windsor in the message, presented in the House of Commons. It turned over to the Commons the hereditary revenues for the Duchy of Cornwall. It asked in return that the Commons make provision for members of the royal family.

The message was presented at the end of question hour, when Rt. Hon. Neville Chamberlain, Chancellor of the Exchequer, proceeded to the bar of the House of Commons and announced: "A message from His Majesty the King, sir, signed by his own hand."

A select committee will be set up, probably Thursday, to consider the question.

Large Timber Deal In North Section Of Vancouver Island

In Territory Thirty Miles North of Campbell River, Salmon River Logging Co. Acquires 700,000,000 Feet

Canadian Press

Vancouver, March 16.—The Salmon River Logging Co. Ltd., a newly incorporated British Columbia firm, has bought about 700,000,000 feet of standing timber, situated about thirty miles north of Campbell River, Vancouver Island, from the Memekay Timber Co. Ltd., it was learned here today.

No price was disclosed in the announcement made by J. G. Robson, founder and president of the new company and president of the Timberland Lumber Co. Ltd., New Westminster.

Engineers are now surveying the territory, known as lot 36, Sayward District, for possibilities of an outlet at Sayward.

C. Dewey Anderson, who has been active in timber circles in the province and associated with his father, P. B. Anderson, in the Green Point Logging Company, is vice-president and general manager of the new company.

GAS MASK PRODUCTION SPEEDED

Paris, March 16 (Canadian Press from Havas).—The government today ordered the expropriation of a gas mask factory operated at St. Priest-sur-Rhone by the Protective Supply Research and Construction Company.

Eight Trucks And Two Cars Burned

Canadian Press

Vancouver, March 16.—Eight trucks, two automobiles, and a quantity of cordwood were destroyed early today when a fire broke out in the Sixth Avenue woodyard here. A nearby gasoline station was saved by firemen, who battled the blaze for more than an hour. No estimate of the damage was given.

Commons Committee Hears A. W. Neill Speak Against Franchise Being Given

Canadian Press

Ottawa, March 16.—Extending the franchise to the Japanese in British Columbia would lead to further demands for immigration privileges and fishing licenses, with the final result the province would become a Japanese state in Canada, A. W. Neill, Independent, Comox-Alberni, told the House of Commons committee on elections and franchise today.

He was commenting on the brief submitted by a Japanese delegation to the committee last year asking for the Federal franchise in British Columbia and another brief, read by Tom Reid, Liberal, New Westminster, at a sitting of the committee last week which presented an argument against extension of the franchise.

The four Japanese delegates who presented the brief were not representative of the Japanese in British Columbia, Mr. Neill said. One was a woman school teacher who had lived ten years in Vancouver, one was a dentist and another an insurance agent.

Twenty-five Stettler People Hold Irish Sweep Ticket on Golden Miller

Canadian Press

Stettler, Alta., March 16.—Twenty-five Stettler residents who signed their Irish Sweepstakes ticket "Optimist" are building dream castles as they await the running of the Grand National Friday. Their ticket, No. AZ06136, drew Golden Miller, the favorite. If the horse runs unplaced they each stand to win $123. If Golden Miller should win there will be approximately $150,000 turned loose in the Stettler district and each one of the twenty-five would win close to $6,000.

HOSPITAL PATIENT WINS

Canadian Press

Toronto, March 16.—Herbert Lowry, thirty-two, hospital patient here, is well on the road to recovery, helped greatly by the arrival of a cablegram from Dublin informing him he drew a horse in the Irish Hospital Sweepstakes.

Lowry, who underwent an operation recently, was informed of his good luck by an excited nurse. He said his fiancé is part owner of the ticket.

MAN SOLD TICKET

Ottawa, March 16.—A. J. Pellitier's sorrow knew no bounds today because he thought Dame Fortune would not make this time an exception.

Pellitier said he had bought tickets before on the Irish Sweepstakes, but had not won anything. He bought one again this year. A few days ago a friend approached him. Pellitier said he sold him the ticket, feeling his luck would not change.

When the draw for the Irish Sweepstakes was announced yesterday he had drawn a ticket on Kitoi—and a chance to win $3,000, or possibly $150,000.

Not only that, but Pellitier said he had received an offer from New York to buy a portion of the ticket at a substantial figure.

Pellitier would not disclose the name of the person to whom he sold the ticket.

MINER HOLDS TICKET

Drumheller, Alta., March 16 (Canadian Press).—Andrew Craig, a miner employed by Red Deer Valley Coal Company at Mac Mine, is holder of an Irish sweepstake ticket worth several thousand dollars, but kept on today at his job in the mine. The ticket was drawn in Dublin yesterday. The miner refused to tell the name of the horse.

The ticket was sent to Craig as a Christmas present by his father in Scotland.

DRIVE AGAINST NAZIS IN U.S.

day evening which filled Madison Square Garden—it seats approximately 25,000—brought from Mayor Fiorello La Guardia the assertion he would repeat his characterization of Hitler as a "brown-shirted fanatic" as often as the occasion demanded.

EX-NRA CHIEF SPEAKS

John L. Lewis, head of the Committee for Industrial Organization; Maj.-Gen. Johnson, former NRA administrator, and other speakers at the rally called for a boycott of German goods. The meeting was sponsored by Jewish leaders.

Mayor La Guardia appeared in the great hall of the Garden late in the proceedings just as Maj.-Gen. Johnson was well started on a vitriolic attack on Hitler.

The Mayor, standing with outthrust jaw before the microphone, called out amid a great, almost continuous roar from the Garden's twenty-odd thousand seats:

"When I talk about a menace to peace (he previously had referred to Hitler as such) I don't need amplification. (This was in reference to the fact he had started to speak from a side section and the demonstrators had demanded he go to the microphone.)

REMARK NO NOVELTY

"This protest of mine the other day was no novelty," he said, adding that he had said similar things about Hitler often before.

"And I expect to continue to say the same thing and I hope the necessity (for saying it) will be but a short time."

NOT ON FIELD OF HONOR

"Don't worry what Mr. Hitler may say. Pay no attention because the opinion of the world is that Adolf Hitler is not personally 'satisfaktionsfahig'."

This German word, which many appeared not to have caught, was said by several persons standing close to the rostrum and able to speak the language to mean Hitler was not worth meeting on the field of honor.

There was from the mayor no explanation of his meaning.

HITLER AS MONSTER

Mr. Johnson, who preceded Mayor La Guardia on the platform, said "Adolf Hitler and his immediate staff of Nazipathetics have become a sort of monster, threatening the peace of the world."

But, said the former NRA administrator, they menaced peace "only a little more than Stalin and his crew of primitives."

PLANS CHANGED

Berlin, March 16 (Associated Press).—Page one demands President Roosevelt "intervene energetically" and attacks on "Nazi insults" at a New York meeting were withdrawn from Der Angriff, newspaper of Propaganda Minister Paul Joseph Goebbels, after the first edition had appeared today.

The edition scarcely had left the press when official instructions went to newspaper offices to completely ignore the latest repercussion of the "La Guardia incident."

In Der Angriff the banner-line read:

"American Jew leaders insult German people."

Mayor La Guardia (who used a German word he said meant that Hitler couldn't "take it") was not quoted directly.

Three Killed In Plane Crash

Capt. Holmes came to Canada about eight years ago from England and joined the Ontario provincial air service. After brief service with the Ontario service he joined the Royal Canadian Air Force at Ottawa.

Later he became inspector under the civil aviation branch. After serving in that capacity in Ottawa he was transferred to the R.C.A.F. base at Vancouver under Wing Commander A. B. Shearer, now in command of the R.C.A.F. at Rockcliffe, near here.

In 1932 Capt. Holmes returned to England to join the Imperial Airways as a pilot and since then had acquired a reputation for able flying throughout Europe.

He is survived by his parents, the widow and one child, all in England, where he was born.

Wing Commander A. T. Cowley, inspector of air regulation in the civil aviation branch here; Wing Commander Shearer and Squadron Leader E. R. Owen of headquarters staff, Department of National Defence, expressed regret at the sudden death of Capt. Holmes.

Queen Marie Gains Strength

Roumanian Dowager, Ill in Bucharest, Improves Slightly

Associated Press

Bucharest, Roumania, March 10.—Dowager Queen Marie of Roumania, seriously ill of a gastric hemorrhage, was reported slightly improved today. She was stricken by influenza while at the opera last Thursday evening.

Her son, King Carol II, and the young Crown Prince Michael were at the Queen's bedside for two hours last night, as were two of her daughters, Queen Mother Marie of Jugoslavia and former Queen Elizabeth of Greece.

The Queen's illness was not known to the majority of Roumanians because press and radio were not allowed to publish news of her condition.

"May those be forewarned who believe, as a last resort, to overcome Germany through murder and cowardly attempts; here, too, the fervent love of the entire people will constitute the safest rampart around Der Fuehrer (Adolf Hitler) and his trusted followers.

"Woe to him who dares play with fire!"

He went on:

"It will not suffice that one—it will not suffice that many—all those who are of the same opinion and the same spirit will blazingly burn by this fire!"

CONTRIBUTION TO PEACE

Coincident with impressive exercises in the air ministry's honor court, Gen. Goering extolled armament as the Reich's greatest contribution to peace.

The whole Reich heard the radio broadcast.

He not only warned Germany's foreign foes that they would find her prepared, but he shouted: "Woe to anyone at home who tries to undermine this state!"

BORN IN BIRMINGHAM

Rt. Hon. Sir Joseph Austen Chamberlain was born October 16, 1863, at Birmingham. He was the eldest son of Joseph Chamberlain, one of the noted British statesmen of his time, and his wife, nee Harriet Kenrick. In 1906 he married Ivy Muriel Dundas, daughter of Col. Henry Lawrence Dundas. They had two sons and a daughter.

Educated at Rugby School and Trinity College, Cambridge, Sir Austen later received honorary degrees from Oxford, Birmingham, Sheffield and Glasgow, and was elected lord rector of the last named university in 1925.

He began his political career in 1892 as member of Parliament for the constituency of East Worcestershire, which he represented until 1914. Then upon his father's death he was elected to his seat from West Birmingham district.

ance the transition from direct relief to work and wages.

If the necessary degree of unity could not be attained under democracy to deal with such a problem, then the people would pass to some other form of government which would assure that unity, he said.

FROM COAST TO COAST

From almost every city in Canada, the mayors, other elected representatives and civic officials will deal primarily with taxation and debt problems and housing during the three-day convention. A resolution of fealty and continued loyalty to the King was adopted.

The joint meeting of the mayors' conference and the Union of Canadian Municipalities opened with a forecast by W. H. Biggar, Montreal, president of the latter organization, that the convention "would register progress toward an amalgamation of the two bodies."

Guests and delegates were welcomed by Mayor Stanley Lewis of Ottawa.

Victoria's brief will be presented to the conference by Mayor G. C. Miller of Vancouver. Mayor McGavin, who decided he would not attend the conference, requested Mayor Miller to do so.

Talk on Treaty By Wireless

Canada-Australia Trade Discussions Continued By Hon. W. D. Euler From Ship

Canadian Press

Canberra, March 16.—Canadian-Australian trade negotiations are being continued by wireless between the Commonwealth Government here and Hon. W. D. Euler, Canadian Minister of Trade and Commerce, who is returning to Canada aboard the liner Monterey by way of Los Angeles, it was announced today.

Prime Minister Joseph Lyons said the resignation of Sir Henry Gullett, Australian minister in charge of trade treaties, had advanced the prospects of an early agreement between the two Dominions.

"Sir Henry's proposals were not acceptable to Canada because they involved the withdrawal of important trade privileges which Canada now receives," the Prime Minister explained. "The ministry rejected his plans because they were over-extreme and uncompromising."

NO "DISCIPLINE" SOUGHT

Sir Henry Gullett in an interview denied he had intended to "discipline" Canada. "It is moonshine to say I cannot compromise," Sir Henry declared. "The suggestion I intended to discipline Canada is contrary to fact. I deny I intended to divert trade from Canada to foreigners."

New Attractions For Recruits

Improved Conditions Expected to Spur Enlistments in Britain

By GEORGE HAMBLETON
Canadian Press Staff Writer

London, March 16.—The British Army is to be made more attractive to recruits.

The soldier of the future—Rt. Hon. Alfred Duff Cooper, Secretary for War, informed the House of Commons this afternoon—is to have four meals a day instead of three. At home stations an ounce of butter will be substituted for an ounce of margarine.

The daily ration for enlisted boys will be increased by an issue of milk. The ration allowance to men on leave will be increased by threepence (six cents) daily. Stoppages from a soldier's pay will be abolished. Civilians will be increasingly employed to do fatigue duties at regimental depots. Soldiers' married quarters are being raised to the level of the best housing standards of the day.

Recruiting for the regular army last year, Mr. Duff Cooper admitted in introducing the army estimates, "was worse than in the previous year."

"It is of urgent public importance," he proceeded, "that there should be a very substantial improvement, for if such improvement does not take place the army no longer will be able to carry out its normal duties of furnishing garrisons which are required for maintaining peace and order throughout the British Empire."

MERLE OBERON IS HURT IN CRASH

Associated Press

London, March 16.—Merle Oberon, Hollywood motion picture actress, was rushed to the Middlesex Hospital today after an automobile collision. Hospital authorities said she was slightly hurt.

Miss Oberon was treated for cuts on the right side of the face, behind the ear and on her neck. Her secretary said she would not be disfigured by the injuries.

Nanaimo, B.C., March 16.—William McArthur, thirty-year-old printer, formerly employed by The Victoria Times and the King's Printer, Victoria, and The Herald, Nanaimo, died in the hospital here today following a three-month illness.

He was born in Scotland and came to British Columbia with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. McArthur, when three years of age.

Besides his parents he is survived by three sisters, Mrs. A. W. Lintot, Jean Priscilla and Margaret, and four brothers, James, John David and Thomas, all of Nanaimo, and Robert of Vancouver.

Funeral arrangements will be announced later.

THREE TACOMA WOMEN KILLED

Crash of Automobile With Trolley Car Fatal; Three Injured

Associated Press

Tacoma, Wash., March 16.—A broadside crash between a trolley car and an automobile filled with six Tacoma matrons early today ended in death for three of the women and injuries to the others.

Those who lost their lives were Mrs. Bernice Brown, Mrs. Josephine Poultz and Mrs. Mary Martin.

Trial of Meha Singh, charged with perjury, neared its close this afternoon as counsel for the Crown and for the defence opened argument on the case before Mr. Justice D. A. McDonald in the Assize Court here. Evidence was completed at the morning session, with the accused taking the stand to deny he had seen Gurdit Singh or had struck him on December 26, 1935. His denial of those facts in police court, where he was arraigned for assault, formed the basis of the present charge against him.

The Best GRAY HAIR REMEDY IS MADE AT HOME

YOU can now make at home a better gray hair remedy than you can buy, by following this simple recipe: To half pint of water add one ounce bay rum, a small box of Orlex Compound and one-fourth ounce of glycerine. Any druggist can put this up or you can mix it yourself at very little cost. Apply to the hair twice a week until the desired shade is obtained.

Orlex imparts color to streaked, faded or gray hair, makes it soft and glossy and takes years off your looks. It will not color the scalp, is not sticky or greasy and does not rub off. Do not be handicapped by gray hair now when it is so economical and easy to get rid of it in your own home.

M.P. Absent, But Vote Recorded

Canadian Press

Ottawa, March 16.—"The voice was not the voice of Jacob," said Sam Jacobs in the House of Commons yesterday as he protested against the record of House which had him voting on a bill last week.

Mr. Jacobs, whose remarks frequently amuse the House, is Liberal member for Jacques Cartier, Montreal. He said he was confined to his home through illness all last week and was amazed to find someone had voted in his stead.

LORD'S DAY ACT

Ottawa, March 16 (Canadian Press)—Penalties, including fines and imprisonment, for directors and officers of corporations violating the Lord's Day Act are included in an amendment introduced in the House of Commons yesterday by Herve Brunelle, Liberal, Champlain, Que. Under the act at present corporations are subject only to fines for such violations.

PAPER TO PAY DAMAGES

Brussell, March 16 (Canadian Press from Havas).—A Brussels court yesterday awarded $850 damages against the newspaper Soir in upholding a suit for defamation brought by Leon Degrelle, leader of the Fascist-inclined Rexists. It ruled charges by the newspaper that Degrelle was an anti-Belgian in the pay of Germany and had received German propaganda funds was calumnious and false.

Subjects Urged For Inquiry

J. M. Imrie, Edmonton, Suggests Wide Federal-Western Provincial Financial Study

Canadian Press

Winnipeg, March 16.—Western business men were urged yesterday evening by John M. Imrie, managing director of the Edmonton Journal, to express their views "on the dangers of repudiation, of bureaucracy and radicalism" and "to stem the tide that has set in across the prairies."

In an address to the Winnipeg Board of Trade at its fifty-eighth annual meeting, Mr. Imrie made seven suggestions for submission to the proposed royal commission which will study federal-provincial financial responsibilities.

"The present is not alone a time of great danger," he said. "It is a time also of great opporunity."

The rise and spread of Social Credit reflected the swing of the pendulum to a far extreme as a protest against an accumulation of grievances, he said.

Mr. Imrie suggested the commission be asked to study:

1. Effects of early settlement mistakes.
2. Abandonment of the old tradition that "the west can pay more."
3. The excess cost to the prairie provinces of the national tariff policy.
4. Indirect cost of national trade policies through resultant curtailment of foreign markets for wheat and other agricultural products of the west.
5. "Two at least of the three prairie provinces have had for many years an unfavorable trade balance."
6. Western business in the hands of Dominion or other extra-provincial corporations, or of individuals located in other provinces.
7. Progress of mining and of paper making and the armament programme which has made eastern Canada less dependent on western conditions.

Funds Voted For Atlantic Airmails

Associated Press

Washington, March 16.—The United States Senate appropriations committee yesterday approved the $1,500,000,000 treasury-post office appropriations bill. Outlays totaling approximately $3,207,396 were added to the measure, which already had been passed by the House.

Additions by the Senate committee included $537,000 for extension of contract air mail service, $458,640 for trans-Atlantic airmail, $186,537 for South African airmail and $72,775 for Star route air mail service in Alaska.

Wilson Heads Manufacturers

E. W. Izard, Retiring Chairman, Warns of Too Rapid Rise in Prices

W. B. Wilson was elected chairman of the Victoria Branch of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association at its annual luncheon meeting in the Empress Hotel yesterday afternoon.

R. L. Challoner was appointed vice-chairman. H. Anscomb, C. C. Cochrane and J. M. Porter were elected to the executive.

J. O. Cameron, E. W. Izard and H. J. Pendray were chosen as representatives of the local branch to the executive of the B.C. division of the C.M.A.

SEES DANGERS

Before vacating the chair to Mr. Wilson, Mr. Izard, the retiring chairman, presented a report on the affairs of the branch during the last year. After briefly reviewing the manufacturers' activities and mentioning some of the more prominent guests whom they had entertained, Mr. Izard declared that business had improved enormously during the last year, but warned:

"Prices have risen out of all proportion during the last six months. The price of steel has increased approximately 30 per cent, copper nearly 100 per cent, most other metals 60 per cent. This is too rapid a rise and does not seem justified.

"The cost of living has also increased too rapidly; it would have been healthier if the increase had been more gradual and stabilizing.

"In B.C. we depend almost entirely on our export trade, and it is essential that nothing is allowed to interfere with this trade. We are experiencing a boom now, and while it lasts it is essential for the government and others to conserve their assets and avoid extravagance. After every boom there is a slump. Generally, the more rapid the boom, the sooner the slump. I feel we all need to use extreme caution."

Alderman Ed. Williams, who represented the mayor at the luncheon, sought the co-operation of the manufacturers' association in the special jubilee celebration which the city was putting on for its seventy-fifth anniversary. The city would be decorated with flowers and lights and an extensive programme opening with the spring flower show on April 24 and closing with a grand military tattoo in August had been prepared.

HISTORY OF C.M.A.

W. J. West, chairman of the B.C division of the C.M.A., one of the guests at the luncheon, spoke on the co-operation in the manufacturers' association with government, primary industry, and labor. The C.M.A. was started in 1871 but it was not till 1918 that it became a national organization. In that year the Vancouver division was formed with twenty-seven members. Now it had over 400 and was still growing.

Two resolutions, the first recommending to the nominating committee the appointment of a vice-chairman of the provincial division, and the second asking the branch to go on record as being in favor of the completion of a road from Jordan River to Port Renfrew, were passed.

Among the guests at the meeting were George I. Warren, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce; G. H. Harman, manager of the Bank of Montreal; Major L. L. Anthes, past-president of the C.M.A., and Capt. F. C. Brown, first vice-president of the C.M.A.

De Valera Can Face Electorate With Confidence, Say Observers, Although Spanish Controversy Makes Immediate Poll Inopportune

By JOSEPH DENNIGAN
Canadian Press Correspondent

Dublin, March 16.—Though legally it can remain in office until its five years' lease expires next February, the time has now come when Eamon de Valera's government must start thinking about the next general election.

It seems to be generally agreed Mr. de Valera can face the Free State electorate once again with comparative equanimity.

It is true he has been unable to keep all his promises—his minister for agriculture has, indeed, confessed publicly that they were too optimistic—the so-called economic dispute with Britain is dragging on, unemployment is still a big problem, the outlawed Irish Republican Army is definitely hostile and he has made enemies on the right as well as the left, but by attracting other elements to his banner he has made his position stronger than ever. But, above all, he has no serious rival.

SPANISH CONTROVERSY

At the same time this might not be a prudent time for an election campaign. The political atmosphere in the Free State has become clouded by a controversy about the civil war in Spain.

Stories of Communist atrocities against priests and nuns have made a profound impression in the predominantly Catholic Free State, and while Mr. de Valera rides out the storm, keeping Free State policy on Spain in line with that of other countries, he has been subjected to bitter attacks from the Cosgrave side for refusing to make the technical gesture of breaking off diplomatic relations with the Valencia government and recognizing Gen. Francisco Franco's administration at Burgos.

That the Vatican has not broken off relations with Valencia or followed the lead of Germany and Italy by recognizing Gen. Franco is a strong argument in favor of Valera's waiting policy, but the feeling persists in the country districts that the Spanish question could undoubtedly be exploited by a vote-seeking opposition if an election were to be held just now.

DISSOLUTION IN SUMMER

According to present plans, President de Valera will dissolve the Dail some time between June and September next. By that time, his Minister of Finance, Sean Macentee, will have presented his budget. Forecasts indicate he anticipates being able to distribute a handsome surplus.

Before the election, Valera will also have produced his new constitution, providing for the restoration of a two-chambered legislature and a head of state with powers something like those possessed by President Roosevelt.

At the same time, the Free State will remain in the Commonwealth for external purposes. The King, as is known from the legislation passed at the time of the abdication crisis, will have no functions in internal affairs.

Kamloops Grand Championship Falls to Cadboro Bay Farmer

Kamloops, March 16. — James Turner, Cadboro Bay, led his string of champions into the ring today as the sale of the nineteenth annual British Columbia Fat Stock Show and Bull Sale opened.

Royal Flush, from his farm just above the Uplands, yesterday proved himself to be the best shorthorn bull in the west when he was judged grand champion. Mr. Turner also won the ribbon for the best British Columbia-bred shorthorn with him.

Vernon Bocaldo, owned by B. N. Clerke of the N.C. Ranch, Vernon, took premier honors among the Herefords. Best British Columbia-bred Hereford fell to Charles Turner of Westwold, B.C., with Sunnybrae Prince.

Ignoring Victoria

THE MONETARY TIMES OF TORONTO describes under its heading of "Late News of The Week" that "continued improvement was shown in income tax collections in the ten months of the fiscal year ending January 31, in comparison with the same period the previous fiscal year, according to a statement issued this week by Revenue Minister Ilsley.

"Toronto led all districts, with a total of $31,787,855, an increase of $7,663,286. Montreal was second, with $25,211,996, an increase of $2,774,313. Ottawa district showed an increase from $4,950,959 to $8,101,283. Collections in other districts follow, with corresponding period previous fiscal year in parentheses:

"Charlottetown, $705,592 ($396,451); Halifax, $1,252,534 ($1,127,072); St. John, $866,494 ($776,552); Quebec, $1,182,888 ($758,584); Kingston, $323,676 ($175,118); Belleville, $431,256 ($391,341); Hamilton, $6,358,673 ($5,756,600); London, $8,602,476 ($7,231,067); Fort William, $246,626 ($178,401); Winnipeg, $2,286,718 ($2,046,227); Regina, $234,001 ($183,082); Saskatoon, $134,211 ($103,739); Calgary, $1,323,024 ($1,111,641); Edmonton, $386,975 ($366,255); Vancouver, $6,261,832 ($5,097,799); Yukon, $22,720 ($17,257)."

It will be noted from the above that, while Calgary and Edmonton are segregated as far as their income tax collections are concerned, there is no mention of the segregation of any well-populated area in British Columbia except Vancouver.

Admittedly, Vancouver is the third largest city of the Dominion, but it is not British Columbia. There is, after all, the capital city of the province, and such thriving cities as Kamloops, Vernon, Nelson, whose income tax returns should be classified according to the obligations they have to meet—and do meet.

It is the same with bank clearings. Vancouver takes the "cream" off the large cheques that pass through Victoria banks. Which suggests to us that there is something wrong with the present system.

The Modern Moses

UP AT KAMLOOPS YESTERDAY, Dr. Frank Patterson, the leader of the Conservative party of British Columbia posed as the modern Moses. He is going to try to lead us poor down-trodden taxpayers out of the wilderness of over-government. We quote from the morning paper:

"A Legislature of forty-eight members for this province with a population of 750,000 would appear entirely unnecessary," Dr. Patterson declared. "I am firmly convinced there should be a complete revision of the legislative setup, and as leader of the Conservative party I pledge to you that the size of the Legislature shall be drastically reduced.

"There should be a reduction of one-quarter or one-third of the present membership, and a bill for this purpose will be passed at the first session of the Legislature when the Conservative party is returned to power, and every candidate supporting the party in this election will be pledged to support this reform."

Very well, then, Dr. Patterson should keep up his optimistic spirit and pin his faith to the belief that he will be the next Premier of British Columbia. But will he? the echo answers no!

Yet it is refreshing to see Dr. Patterson's solicitude as to the need for reform in the size of the Legislature. It shows a commendable change of Conservative attitude since 1933, when the Tolmie administration ceased to reign, with its cabinet of ten ministers.

A Contrast

THIS IS HOW A STORY APPEARED in a popular London (England) daily recently:

"It is a disgrace that a man (Lord Joicey) should die and leave £1,519,717, obtained from the coal industry, without giving a penny to charity." This protest was made in the House of Commons yesterday by Mr. J. Batey (Socialist, Spennymoor), who presented the bill for the nationalization of mines for second reading.

"I knew Lord Joicey nearly all his life. I knew him for fifty years, and I never knew him to give a penny to charity," he added.

"I say it is a disgrace for any man to die and leave so much money while thousands of miners and their wives and families are suffering from poverty and starvation."

(Lord Joicey left £20,000 to his secretary, Miss Vera M. Bertie, and £500 to his nurse. The remainder went to his family.)

Mr. Batey continued: "I want to ask members what would they do if they were miners? Would they be content for the present system to continue?"

The contrast of this apparently niggardly outlook on life is provided by such men as Lord Nuffield, who in his 'teens started a business with a capital of $25, and by dint of hard work and perseverence of a superlative quality, became a multimillionaire.

Joicey, according to the Labor member for the constituency of Spenneymoor, never "gave a penny to charity."

The "trouble" with Nuffield is that while he is making so much money, he finds it is difficult to give it away. Having contributed his full share to all he can think is worthy of financial support in Britain he goes to Australia and New Zealand—and follows his charitable inclinations—not for publicity, but just because he wants to spend his money for the benefit of mankind—as fast as he makes it.

The Nuffields are the men the world wants. Were there more of them, there would be no more war—no more petty strife or sectional conflict.

The Shamrock's Riddle

ST. PATRICK'S DAY, WHICH comes again tomorrow, always brings the shamrock, and the shamrock brings a riddle that will probably never be solved. Nobody knows for certain what St. Patrick's shamrock was, though several kinds of clover and a species of oxalis compete for the honor. The difficulty is, that the ancient Irish word for shamrock, transliterated as "seamrog" in the English alphabet, means simply "three-leaf," so that any plant with three-in-one leaves could qualify.

British Labor Preparing

THE BRITISH LABOR PARTY IS building up, preparing to take the reins of government again. It is not that conditions at the moment are particularly favorable for the Labor Party. Its leadership in the House of Commons has followed the Tory policy too closely to win a sufficient number of recruits for a political turnover. Nevertheless, it is coming before the British people with a new programme, more in line with its socialistic pretensions than any of its predecessors.

In a statement entitled "Labor's Immediate Programme," the party emphasizes its peace policy, based on the League and the need of adequate defence forces for Britain and the Commonwealth. It promises public ownership of the Bank of England; public control of all transport by rail, road, and and coastal shipping, and public ownership and operation of all railways. It also will institute public ownership of the coal industry and gas and electricity services and a radical increase in wages and improvement of working conditions of coal miners. It pledges itself to secure effective powers for state and local authorities to acquire land on a large scale. It will enforce a shorter working week by national law with annual statutory vacations with pay.

Not a radical programme by any means, but it is more straightforward and pro-working-class than those platforms on which the Labor Party twice rode its men into government.

Catholic Anti-Fascists

AN ARTICLE, "EUROPEAN CATHolics and Spain," in the March 5 issue of the Catholic weekly, "The Commonweal," disposes of the view so skilfully propagated by pro-Fascist elements in this country, that to be a friend of the Spanish Republic is to be an enemy of the Roman Catholic Church.

The writer of the article is able to show "a strong current of Catholics in every country" who are opposed to the Spanish Fascists, their mercenaries and foreign allies. "In denouncing the insurrection they are following the strict teachings of Catholic moral theology."

Who are some of these anti-Fascist elements in the church? "The fervent Catholics of the Basque provinces are members of the Popular Front." The Catholic bishops of Belgium "have just finely condemned every form of totalitarian state and asserted their belief in the methods of liberty."

The organs of the Dominican order in both France and England "wage a courageous campaign against all attempts to identify Franco's cause with that of religion." A similar attitude has been taken by The Dublin Review and by a whole group of Catholic publications in France, L'Aube, Esprit, La Vie Catholique, Sept and La Vie Intellectuelle. In Switzerland, the Catholic paper, Popolo e Liberta, declared "the triumph of the Nazis or Fascists of Spain would not be for the greater good of religion."

Finally, the article points out:

"It should be noted that the Pope fervently welcomed the Anglo-French proposal of mediation; that the Vatican has not broken off diplomatic relations with the Valencia government and that, when the insurgent flag was hoisted at the Spanish Embassy to the Vatican, orders were given for it to be pulled down."

He Was Right

THE MAYOR OF NEW YORK still thinks that Reichsfuehrer Hitler is a "brown-shirted fanatic" and apparently does not pay a very great deal of attention to the rather luke-warm apology from the United States Government to the Third Reich.

After all, why should the Mayor of the greatest city of the United States worry about the young man who is now in control at Berlin? There is no reason why he should not speak his mind. Mayor La Guardia objects to any form of tyranny. He told a gathering of Jewish women that their race had been persecuted by a "brown-shirted fanatic."

And is it permitted to ask whether the Mayor of New York was far wrong in his statement?

Notes

Short history of man: He spends fifty years learning how to live; then finds his wisdom too late to do him any good.

Bruce Hutchison from Montreal today reminds us that at the rate the French-Canadians are breeding and spreading, they will have all of Canada within 100 years and English will be out. That is, unless some of our Nordic immigration proponents get beyond the letter-writing stage and begin to get some action.

Loose Ends

• • • •

There are sights to be seen and fine food to be eaten in Montreal—there is Mr. Houde, the incredible—and the forces he represents—there are scallops at Drury's—and what more can you ask?

• • • •

By BRUCE HUTCHISON

MONTREAL.

SCALLOPS

A MAN in normal health remembers most places gastronomically. The road to Barkerville, long before the present mining boom, means little to me now but the black smear of Jack of Clubs Lake and the fat mutton stew, made from an ancient sheep, of rich, mature flavor, at Wing Dam. The further side of the Chilacootin (only outsiders call it Chilcotin) means moose steak, exquisitely tender, out of season, the gift of a local trapper. The Okanagan—that is the fat, sleek asparagus in Kelowna in the springtime. The great north has shrunk to one of Sandy Anan's deep apple pies at Endako, and the Kootenays have become a vague memory of trout served on one of the old stern-wheelers.

To this splendid procession I now add Atlantic scallops which, forever more, will be Montreal to me. Atlantic scallops in Drury's ancient chop house opposite the Windsor station—Atlantic scallops from the Bay of Fundy, wrapped in some divine, unfathomable sauce and fried to a crisp brownness on the outside, a white, moist lusciousness within.

They serve them to you piping hot, bursting their exterior covering, oozing the pure flavor of the broad Atlantic, the very essence of the Bay of Fundy. They grow in shells, these splendid creatures, like clams and mussels, but they are of a superior order, unlike anything on our Pacific Coast. Humbly the westerner must admit that in this one thing the Atlantic has us beaten.

You think at first to consume a hundred scallops, each the size of a ping-pong ball, but you find them wonderously filling. A half dozen of them and you are filled up for, unlike our clams, oysters and crabs, they are solid meat, firm, rather heavy; yes, rather too heavy after the first half dozen. But they are worth the trip to Montreal.

LOCAL GROWTH

THE OTHER thing that justifies the trip to Montreal is Mr. Camille Houde. You don't hear much about him these days because, for the moment, he is out. He has lost his mayoralty and a position of much larger invisible power exerted by those who control the tangled underground politics of Montreal.

Mr. Houde is out, but he is still worth coming to Montreal to see. He is an authentic Canadian phenomenon, something that couldn't have happened anywhere but in Montreal, a weird, exotic growth which sprang from the French soil of old Quebec, but developed into full bloom in the artificial greenhouse heat of a modern metropolis, and took its color from the fierce, ruthless politics of the largest French city outside France.

Mr. Houde is a short, bulky man, but not fat, not soft; the healthiest man alive, who smokes black cigars but drinks no liquor and eats with care. His features are of astounding size—a huge round nose, a jutting chin, black eyes that gape and flash alarmingly as he talks. His whole face seems to contort; now in joy now in acute physical agony.

What you think of his politics doesn't matter, but the man himself will intrigue you. He has a joy of life which bowls you over, carries you along—a reckless, boyish, puckish humor that appals you at first and then delights you. There is nothing small about this man. Without party ties, tradition, his mind soars to cosmic things, to international affairs, to life, to the future of the race and of our civilization. It soars in strange spirals that leave you dizzy. If one could quote him, it would be a front-page story in every newspaper in America.

OBVIOUS FACT

HOUDE, HOWEVER, may bob up again or he may remain in obscurity, though the chances of him remaining long in obscurity are remote. That doesn't matter permanently one way or the other to anyone but Houde. But the forces of race and of temperament which he represents—they matter a great deal to everybody who is going to live in Canada in the next century. They are forces which already baffle Canadian statesmanship, puzzle the historian, make the ordinary man wonder what is going to happen in this country.

These forces can be summed up in one very obvious but generally unnoted fact—in less than a century, at the present birthrate, Canada will be predominantly French. There will be more French people than British people, more French talked than English. Probably you never thought of that. Most people haven't, for important and obvious facts are generally overlooked while obscure and unimportant ones are being exploited.

Quebec, therefore, is worth watching. You can't hope to understand it. You can only wonder at it, at the fertility of this race, the fecundity of its mothers, the stubbornness of its native ideas and tradition. A man like Houde is cast up out of this ancient soil and he may be cast down. But there will be others. There will be more Houdes, greater, perhaps, and more dangerous. Meanwhile you can understand the scallops at Drury's chop house. You can get around them all right.

DID ANYONE KEEP THE ADDRESS

To the Editor:—Some weeks ago you published a letter from a lady in England who wrote asking for stamps to sell in aid of a children's hospital. I have mislaid her address and shall be obliged if you will let me have it; also the name of the hospital.

QUEEN MARY'S DEAD COMMANDER

Dixie Tighe in The New York Post

The will of Sir Edgar Britten, commander of the Queen Mary, Commodore of the Cunard-White Star fleet, and a liner captain for twenty-one years, has just been made public.

He left only $8,073.24 and a net of $3,321.34.

Until the Queen Mary made her maiden voyage here, we had never met Sir Edgar Britten. Today we remember certain things about that first meeting in Sir Edgar's quarters.

There is a smartness, a splendor about the captain's quarters in the Queen Mary and we remarked to Sir Edgar, "My, but don't you live like a floating king!"

In his forthright manner this man who had been at sea for forty years replied:

"I am king of a community afloat, but, remember, the sea holds few prizes and many blanks."

We didn't quite know what he meant then, but his will has helped us to understand.

Not Self-governing Yet, Says Sloan

An amendment to the B.N.A. Act was necessary, but nothing could be done until Canada's constitution was domiciled in her own parliament, said Hon. Gordon Sloan, K.C., Attorney-General, in speaking at the annual meeting of the Victoria Branch of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association in the Empress Hotel yesterday afternoon of the difficulties which had arisen between the federal and provincial governments over matters of legislation.

"I don't know of a single country whose constitution is in another country," Mr. Sloan said. "Canada cannot say she is a self-governing nation until its constitution is moved from Westminster to Ottawa. Then we have the power to amend it, providing, of course, that minority rights are protected."

The Attorney-General sketched the differences which the federal and provincial governments had had recently. He pointed out that under the B.N.A. Act the provincial legislatures had been given jurisdiction over property and civil rights within the provinces, which amounted to 90 per cent of all legislation.

He reviewed the various acts which had been taken to the Privy Council. He pointed out that those dealing with insurance and social and labor legislation were declared ultra vires, while two of the Bennett New Deal legislations, those dealing with unfair trade practices and the farmer-creditor act, were found constitutional.

Mr. Sloan felt the latter was a reversal of provincial rights. He pointed out that the government did not object to the act itself, but objected to a board of reviews interfering with the crown rights of the province.

"If a man buys crown land from us, this board can scale his debt down," Mr. Sloan said. "Just how it is going to work out I don't know. It's a serious matter."

"All this raises the vital questions concerning Canada's constitution. There is no doubt that some matters could be far better handled by the federal government, but we cannot give our powers away, just as Ottawa cannot give its powers away."

In return for giving up its custom and excise revenue when it came into Confederation, British Columbia had been promised grants and subsidies. These had not been paid in anywhere near the right amount, the Attorney-General said, and the Dominion had been making a "profit of $20,000,000 a year on the province through Confederation.

Mr. Sloan intimated that it was the intention of the Pattullo government if returned to office, to introduce the necessary legislation at the next session to set up a ministry of trade and commerce. This new department would create new trade channels for British Columbia goods.

Capt. F. C. Brown, first vice-president of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association, thanked Mr. Sloan and said that an amendment to the B.N.A. Act was certainly necessary to provide national health insurance and minimum wages.

SALT SPRING

Ganges, March 16.—The annual dinner and election of officers of the Canadian Legion was held at Harbor House. The result of the election follows: President, Capt. M. F. Macintosh, re-elected; first vice-president, Gavin C. Mouat; second vice-president, A. G. Crofton; honorary secretary, T. F. Speed; honorary secretary, V. Case-Morris.

Celebrating the twenty-fifth anniversary of the association, officers and members of the Guild of Sunshine were at home last Thursday afternoon at Ganges House. Tea was poured by Mrs. C. Stuart Holmes, Mrs. H. Johnson and Mrs. D. Tweedhope. The committee responsible for the programme included Mrs. E. Parsons, Mrs. Ross Young, Mrs. J. Bennett, Mrs. H. Noon, assisted by Mrs. Laurie Mouat, Mrs. W. Norton, Mrs. H. May and Mrs. W. Jameski.

The Ladies' Aid of the United Church will hold a sale of home cooking and useful and fancy articles Thursday, March 25, at Ganges House.

LANGFORD

The membership committee of the Parent-Teacher Association will meet on Wednesday, March 17, in the junior schoolroom, at 3.15 o'clock.

The Lenten midweek service, which Rev. Montague Bruce has been conducting in St. John's, Colwood, and St. Matthew's Church, Langford, on alternate Wednesday evenings, will be held this week in St. Matthew's Church at 7.30 o'clock.

"Rembrandt" To Open Tomorrow

One of the world's greatest artists, who died nearly 300 years ago, is brought to the screen by Charles Laughton in Alexander Korda's latest production, "Rembrandt," which will be screened at the Atlas Theatre tomorrow.

"Rembrandt" provides Laughton with the most interesting role of his career and when he was cast for the part he approached the subject with characteristic thoroughness. He spent several weeks in Amsterdam absorbing "atmosphere" by visiting the houses in which Rembrandt once lived, and in the museums and galleries containing his pictures.

Also to be shown are Alice Brady and Charles Ruggles in "Mind Your Own Business."

OAK BAY THEATRE

How a virile young man posing as a spineless social lion proves to his dubious father that he is a real he-man is the theme of "Park Avenue Logger," starring George O'Brien and showing at the Oak Bay Theatre today.

Directed by David Howard, the George A. Hirliman production for RKO radio release concerns the comedy-dramatic adventures of O'Brien as a masked wrestling champion, who keeps his identity a secret from the public until his father disgustedly sends him to a lumber camp to teach him how to be a man.

Naturally curly hair is oval growing more on one side than another, and hence curling as it grows. Straight hair, on the other hand, is cylindrical, like a rubber tube.

GEORGE ARLISS DOMINION STAR

Popular English Actor Portrays Dual Role in "Man of Affairs"

Both the brilliant color of the East and the subtle sophistication of the West form a kaleidoscopic background for the fast-moving comedy and drama of "Man of Affairs," starring George Arliss, with Rene Ray and Romilly Lunge, opening today at the Dominion Theatre.

Adapted by L. du Garde Peach from Neil Grant's successful stage play, George Arliss is presented for the first time in his brilliant career in a dual role, playing twin brothers—one a smug and snooty cabinet minister, Lord Dunchester, the other a witty and adventurous scapegrace, Richard Dunchester, who spends most of his time in the Near East looking for fun and excitement.

He gets plenty of the latter when he becomes involved with Bill Howard, another English traveler who is accused of a cold-blooded murder by a pair of crafty sheiks. The two leave the country hurriedly in an attempt to solve the mysterious crime, but when they arrive in London they learn that the sheiks are also on their way to demand reparations from the government for the outrage.

"Man of Affairs" is a GB release, directed by Herbert Mason. In support of George Arliss, Rene Ray and Romilly Lunge are Jessie Winter, John Ford and John Turnbull.

PLAZA THEATRE

"The Amateur Gentleman," the first offering of the newly-formed Criterion Film Productions, which brought Douglas Fairbanks Jr. to the Plaza Theatre yesterday successfully launched that personable and astute young man in the producing field.

Lovely Elissa Landi is co-starred with Fairbanks in this thrilling, red-blooded screen version of the famous Jeffery Farnol romance of Regency England.

CAPITOL THEATRE

With virgin forests of the Northwest as its background and a feud between rival lumber companies as its theme, "God's Country and the Woman," Warner Bros.' picturization in natural colors of the James Oliver Curwood novel of the same name is now showing at the Capitol Theatre, with George Brent and Beverly Roberts in the stellar roles.

COLUMBIA THEATRE

Intensive research was required before many of the scenes of "Daniel Boone," now at the Columbia Theatre, could be produced with historical accuracy. This was particularly true of the episodes which were filmed in the market square of the old colonial town of Yadkin, North Carolina, whence Boone set out with the settlers to establish a new home in the wilds of Kentucky.

STRANGE TRIAL IN VAST COURT

Case Against Woman Who Kidnapped Own Child Witnessed By 150 For Movies

One hundred and fifty Victorians yesterday crowded a courtroom which would make envious those of the city's jurists who lament the antiquity of the present court house.

Packed between high marble pillars with sunlight falling through venetian blinds, they witnessed one of the strangest trials ever known here—the case of the state against a woman charged with kidnapping her own child.

Today the audience returned back to their regular jobs and the wreckers will start pulling down the wallboard columns which look so like marble, and removing the rotary arc which takes the place of the sun.

FEW MINUTES IN JAIL

For the 150 were making their screen debut, and the accused, Alice Moore, leading lady of the current Central Films production "Women Against the World," has already served her sentence in a few minutes behind wooden bars in the studio cells, facing the cameras.

The courtroom was unique not only for its size, but also by the fact that it changed its nature like a chameleon. On Saturday morning Reginald Hincks sat as judge behind a dark wood bench with a plaster bust in a niche above his head. In the afternoon Douglas Flintoff sat behind a white stone bench in the same spot to read a manslaughter sentence. The niche above the bench had vanished. Yesterday Mr. Hincks was back in his place, the dark wood had once again replaced the white stone and the plaster bust was back in its place. The whole transformation was just a matter of another layer of wallboard and a new coat of paint.

Twenty-five Years Ago Today

MARCH 16 1912

(From The Times Files)

Hon. William Templeman, Minister of Mines, who has come west to give testimony before the Commission on Chinese immigration, is spending the day in the city.

* * *

James McGeer, a large property-owner in South Vancouver, has applied to the provincial executive for an official inquiry into the question of how expenditures have been made of provincial grants in the district wherein he is a resident. He alleges that these grants have been spent to favor particular sections where they would most benefit property owned by members of the council of South Vancouver.

* * *

Major J. M. Mutter, warden of the provincial jail, is calling for tenders for the supply of a number of khaki uniforms for the jail officials as well as for the supply of groceries, bread, beef, clothing, boots and shoes for the ensuing year.

* * *

The first Victoria automobile show with cars of all makes, designs, sizes and power, on view at the drill hall, will be held Thursday, Friday and Saturday next week, and the proceeds will be donated to the Sailors' Institute.

CAMPAIGN ON BUILDING PLAN

Major L. L. Anthes and Prof. W. W. Goforth Contact Trades Here

Demonstrating to the trade the advantage of the business stimulus afforded by the Dominion home improvement plan, Major L. A. Anthe, chairman of the marketing committee of the Canadian Institute of Plumbing and Heating, and Prof. W. W. Goforth, general manager of the institute, were in Victoria yesterday from Toronto.

In their campaign to organize the industry's approach to the new market created by the home improvement plan, Major Anthes and Prof. Goforth have just completed a tour from Halifax to the coast.

Yesterday they met representatives of the plumbing and heating trades, wholesalers, jobbers and retailers, as well as contractors.

If the home improvement plan is to be put across it would be necessary for the trades to put their shoulder to the wheel and direct all their energies to that end, Major Anthes told the meeting in a brief introductory address.

Prof. Goforth said the time and tide was right for the plan. Three or four years ago, he said, such a scheme would not have gone far, but today, with every promise of several years of increasing prosperity ahead, the long-term payment method under which the plan operates was an effective and suitable means of expanding the industry's business.

Major Anthes, past-president, attended a luncheon meeting of the local branch of the C.M.A. yesterday.

Major Anthes and Prof. Goforth left Victoria last night and will return east via Edmonton.

EXPECT HEAVY TOURIST YEAR

A. E. Chilton Says Travel Men Anticipate 20 Per Cent Increase

A. E. Chilton of the Gray Line, upon arriving back in Victoria recently after attending a three-day convention of the Pacific Coast Grey Line operators in San Francisco, voiced a prediction that there will be a 20 per cent increase in tourist travel on the Pacific Coast this summer.

Mr. Chilton, while in California, conferred with Harry Pooley, president of the Gray Line Association, Chicago, and Bert White of the American Express Company, who shared the opinion of passenger agents in San Francisco that the tourist business will show a substantial increase this summer. They are looking forward to steady increase in the traffic until 1939, the year of the big San Francisco Exposition and the World's Fair in New York, when tourist figures are expected to reach an all-time high.

Victoria should benefit greatly with these two large attractions on either coast, drawing visitors from those going in either direction.

According to Mr. Chilton, tourist travel is expected to commence earlier. Many Californians are enthusiastic about visiting the city during the jubilee celebrations, he remarked.

Ferry Handles Extra Traffic

The Mill Bay ferry has more than doubled its ordinary schedule to take care of increased traffic resulting from the closing of the Malahat, according to a report received by the Public Works Department. The report states that the ferry has adequately handled the traffic.

In a five-day period last week the ferry made 114 crossings, averaging seven cars per trip. Only eighteen cars were left behind in that time and ten of these were on one day when there was a particularly heavy travel.

COUNCIL TOLD BUREAU WORK

Esquimalt Hears G. H. Stevens Tell of Benefits of Tourist Business

Esquimalt is just as vitally interested in the progress of Vancouver Island and in the advertising which helps to bring much-needed residents to Greater Victoria as the City of Victoria itself is, G. H. Stevens, president of the Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau, told the Esquimalt council at its meeting last night.

Mr. Stevens attended the council meeting in the company of George I. Warren, publicity commissioner, and Fred Crowhurst, a director of the bureau, in answer to a request from the council for further information on the bureau's work in connection with a letter received from the bureau asking for a grant from the municipality.

Mr. Stevens outlined briefly the work of the bureau, especially in the matter of bringing new residents to the island. These residents, he said, must first be attracted as tourists.

It was not through lack of appreciation of the bureau's work, but through financial inability that the municipality had not contributed to the support of the organization, said Reeve Alexander Lockley.

The reeve sketched briefly the municipality's position in the matter of reversions and the extent of government tax-free properties. In this latter regard the case of Esquimalt was unique in all Canada, he said.

Victoria had never pressed the case of Esquimalt for compensation for government property, said Councillor Albert Heald. He claimed the city and the whole island would be the eventual gainers if it did. He suggested that the local beer houses were the only people or trades in Esquimalt that gained by the tourist industry.

The question of a grant to the bureau was laid over for later consideration.

Entries Closed For Festival

Provincial Drama Contests Will Open Here April 5

Arrangements for this year's Provincial Drama Festival, to be held at the Shrine auditorium from April 5 to 10, are now practically complete, and entries closed yesterday.

The Lieutenant-Governor will open the festival.

The Lieutenant-Governor has taken a great personal interest in dramatics in the province generally, and strongly supported the Canadian Drama Award, which was started by the B.C. Drama Association. The idea of this award has made a definite and increasing appeal to those associated with the stage and dramatic groups throughout the whole Dominion.

The reception committee has been reorganized owing to the absence of its chairman, Miss Kathleen Agnew, who is now in California, and Mrs G. M. Weir has consented to act in that capacity in 1937.

CUP DONATED

Mrs. Walter Nichol has continued her interest in the festival, and although she will not be able to attend this year, she has given evidence of her practical support in the donation of the Quita Nichol Cup for the best "diction" in the festival. Special judges will be appointed, as in the case of The Victoria Daily Times Shield, who will award this cup to the performer in the festival whose speech is the best.

To win this cup the speech must be clear, well modulated, audible, charming and correct.

LIBRARY COSTS ARE ANALYZED

"But for the Calgary policy of buying reprints of three and four-year-old literature, Victoria in every respect would show the highest state of efficiency at the lowest per borrower costs," a statement from the Victoria Public Library board covering costs in this city, Calgary, Vancouver, Windsor and Edmonton, and presented to the City Council last night, stated.

The communication was in the nature of a reply to inferences made by Jules B. Fortin to indicate the relative costs of various services, including libraries, in the four cities mentioned.

"Having made an exhaustive analysis of figures, we find that if Mr. Fortin had gone deeper into the subject, he could have cited the Victoria Public Library as an outstanding example of efficient operation at a minimum costs," the statement from the library board said in part.

The document judged costs on a basis of the number of borrowers.

MOST BORROWERS

Victoria, it said, had the highest percentage of borrowers in the United States or Canada, the figures being 50.8 per cent, which was 16 per cent above the next in line.

The cost of the library per borrower was $1.30 in Victoria as against $2.50 in Edmonton. Victoria gave the greatest amount of service in hours of any of the cities mentioned, the rate per hour being $6.68 here against $8.38 in Calgary and $23.88 in Vancouver.

Victoria had the second smallest staff, but the highest percentage of trained employees working for the lowest average salaries, the report said.

ELIMINATE FEE PAID TO BANK

Council Changes System of Safe-keeping For Securities on Mayor's Vote

Casting the deciding vote himself, Mayor Andrew McGavin piloted his move to eliminate the $1,300 a year grant to the Bank of Montreal for the safe-keeping of the city's securities through a dissenting City Council last night.

He was supported in his move to alter the system to one which provided the city with a safe in the bank at a rental of $50 a year, but relieved the bank of responsibility for the issues on a six to five vote. Aldermen W. Lloyd Morgan, Ed. Williams, T. W. C. Hawkins, J. D. Hunter and James Adam stood with the mayor on the issue, while Aldermen W. T. Straith, J. A. Worthington, S. H. Okell, Archie Wills and R. A. C. Dewar were in opposition. They favored the amendment of Alderman Archie Wills to table the matter for a week to allow the finance committee to study the amount of issues that could be mishandled and to see if some readjustment might be secured from the bank in its fee for the work.

The mayor and those favoring the change to the old method, contended the officials who would have access to the safe were bonded to an extent where they could not get away with more than the funds posted as sureties, should they turn dishonest.

None of the aldermen opposing the immediate adoption of the mayor's proposal was averse to the city saving money, but they asked delay to secure more data.

Unaware Government Changed Years Ago

Four years ago British Columbia had an election and put an entirely new cabinet in charge of its affairs, but the publicity branch of the federal Department of Agriculture apparently has not discovered this yet. In circular letters to Victoria the branch still addresses the Minister of Agriculture as Hon. W. M. Atkinson, who held the post in the Tolmie government. As a last resort, to impress the official mind at Ottawa, the local department has decided to return the envelopes with the name of Hon. K. C. MacDonald properly inserted.

Mrs. E. Smith Of Nanaimo Passes

Nanaimo, March 16.—Mrs. Elizabeth Smith, wife of Andrew J. Smith of 627 Howard Avenue, passed away at noon yesterday in Nanaimo Hospital, following a brief illness. Mrs. Smith was born in Victoria sixty-two years ago and had resided in Nanaimo for the past forty-five years. Besides her husband she is survived by two sons, Alfred Nash and Wilfred B. Nash, Nanaimo; one daughter, Mrs. J. D. McDonald of Hedley, B.C.; three stepsons, Leon Smith, Powell River; Edward and Raymond Smith of Nanaimo; also three stepdaughters, Mrs. Patrick Donohue, Chemainus; Mrs. F. Taylor and Mrs. H. Wright of Vancouver. One brother, Charles F. Taylor of Seattle, also survives.

PIONEERS ARE HONOR GUESTS

Several Charter Members of First Post of Native Sons at Meeting

Pioneer members of Victoria Post, No. 1, Native Sons of British Columbia, were honored guests at a meeting yesterday evening at which Bruce A. McKelvie, grand factor, was the guest speaker. Mr. McKelvie spoke on "Sir James Douglas."

The guest of honor was Frank Higgins, K.C., first vice-factor of the local post, who gave a brief comment on the minutes of the first post meeting, held on March 29, 1899, which were read by J. E. Wilson.

J. Stuart Yates, first factor, was unable to attend. The oldest native son in attendance at the meeting was J. Flewitt who was born in Victoria in 1857. W. J. V. Church, chief factor, presided.

Charter members in addition to Mr. Higgins and Mr. Wilson, who attended the meeting, were: Lindley Crease, K.C., C. C. Pemberton, Water Englehart, W. F. Adams, G. A. Gardiner, W. Leck and James Bland.

Entertainment was contributed during the evening by Master Donald Simpson, who played several guitar selections. Refreshments were served at the close.

Scouts Make Good Progress

Encouraging Reports Presented at St. Mary's Meeting

The annual general meeting of all parents and friends of St. Mary's Boy Scouts and Cubs was held last evening in Municipal Hall, Oak Bay, Major H. T. Nation in the chair.

The secretary, F. B. Robinson, reported finances to be in a satisfactory condition. Akelas Mrs. Brock and Miss Price reported that the cub pack was progressing wonderfully well and that Miss Violet Field, Tony Oldfield, Miss Wells and Tom Price as assistants, had been a great help.

Scoutmaster Scharff gave an encouraging report on the activities of the troop during the year.

Assistant Scoutmaster Jack Fawcett reported on the finances of the troop. Tribute was paid by the scoutmaster to Assistant Fred Gornal as troop leader and to the patrol leaders for their strong support.

Rover Leader Scharff gave a report of the rover crew and said that its membership was quite international as members were in different parts of the world. A rover den has been acquired and was being furnished.

The following were elected for the next year: Major H. T. Nation, chairman; F. B. Robinson, honorary secretary-treasurer; committee, Mrs. H. C. Bray, Mrs. A. Gordon and Mrs. R. D. Harvey, Messrs. Gibbs, Doe, Eddie, Ker and Murphy.

Lady Houston Will Now Found

Millions To Be Divided Among Relatives

Associated Press

London, March 16.—The fortune of the eccentric Lady Houston, estimated between $17,000,000 and $25,000,000, may be divided among six relatives, her solicitors announced today.

Though it was stated after Lady Houston's death in December that she left no will, her solicitors disclosed a will had been found bequeathing the entire estate to Miss Juliana Hoare, an aunt of Sir Samuel Hoare, First Lord of the Admiralty.

Miss Hoare, a close friend and confidante of Lady Houston for many years, died a year ago at the age of eighty, however, thus invalidating the bequest.

Oak Bay Girls Win Cage Game

The Oak Bay High School girls' basketball team nosed out the Victoria High School 27 to 24 in a fixture in the girls' basketball league yesterday afternoon in the Victoria High School gymnasium.

Oak Bay now has an undefeated string of victories and with but one more game to play they have cinched top place in the league.

Pokes Fun at Victoria Signs

Mrs. Nellie McClung Tells Toronto Of Local "Dignity"

Toronto, March 16.—All the problems in the world could be solved "if you would make the right people hungry," Mrs. Nellie McClung, noted writer, told an audience here last night.

Before any person served on an unemployment commission he should be made to look for a job for two weeks, sleep on park benches and have doors slammed in his face. Occasionally, she admitted, people got good ideas, but they usually took them to a political party.

Mrs. McClung described the life she enjoys in Victoria with its "quiet dignity." A cross-roads sign in Ontario reads just "cross-road" for the benefit of motorists. In Victoria it reads "intercommunicating highways."

Where the sign reads "go slow" in Ontario, it says "proceed with caution" in Victoria. Someone had told her he'd seen a dog chasing a cat and they were both walking.

Interment Made At Cobble Hill

Cobble Hill, March 16.—Funeral services were held last Friday afternoon for the late Mrs. Margaret Jane Melrose from the family home, the cortege proceeding to St. John's Church, where interment service was held, Rev. E. M. Willis officiating, the hymns "Rock of Ages" and "Abide With Me" were sung. The following acted as pallbearers: J. M. Lindell, William Bell, K. F. Duncan, D. R. Hattie, I. L. Dougan and J. H. Blyth.

Mrs. Melrose, who died in her sixty-seventh year, was born in the Shawnigan district.

She is survived by one daughter, Miss Mona Melrose, at home, and two brothers, W. G. and R. J. Manley, at Cobble Hill.

Solarium W.A.—The regular monthly meeting of the Women's Auxiliary to the Solarium will be held on Thursday afternoon, March 18, in the office, 220 Pemberton Building, at 2.30 o'clock.

Guide Body Changes Its Policy

Local Association Disbands To Form Smaller Groups

A change in policy, owing to the growth of the movement, was decided upon at the annual meeting of the Girl Guide Association, held last night at headquarters. The local association will disband and each district will, in future, have its own local association which will attend to the specific interests of the companies of each district, headed by the several district commissioners, Mrs. L. A. Genge, East Victoria; Miss Leighton, West Victoria, and Mrs. Midgley, North Victoria.

Mrs. Kyrle Symons, the president, welcomed the large gathering and ably reviewed the progress made during the last year, thanking all who had assisted in the cause of Guiding in Victoria.

COMMISSIONER SPEAKS

Mrs. Alan Morkill, provincial commissioner, paid tribute to the work of the Guiders as revealed in the interesting reports. She emphasized that "good turns are the essence of Guiding," and that "Guiding is a game to be learned and played at the same time." She impressed upon the Guiders that originality was necessary to maintain the interest of the children. She warned against the danger of over organizing and appealed to the parents for their support of the work.

Mrs. Morkill presented Mrs. Symons with the "Thanks" badge, in appreciation of her able and sympathetic leadership of the association during the last three years.

REPORTS GIVEN

Mrs. Ashley Cooper, the secretary, gave a resume of the outstanding activities of the past year and thanked those who had responded to the appeal for financial assistance and subscriptions. The Guides had taken part in patriotic services, assisted at the showing of Titania's Palace, and a week's training classes under the direction of Miss Joyce Wolton of Foxlease, England, had done much to stimulate interest. The badge convener's report was read by Mrs. P. E. Corby and that of the treasurer by Mrs. Pritchard.

Reports were read by the commissioners, captains and Brown Owls, recording the year's progress, as follows: East district, Miss George, Miss Lomas, Miss Peetz, Miss Pite, Miss Adams, Miss Cawley, Miss Barber-Starkey, Mrs. Genge, Mrs. Pearson; West district, Mrs. Sills, Miss Ryan, Miss Morry, Miss McDonald, Mrs. Stewart, Miss Acland, Mrs. Abraham, Mrs. Cooper and Miss Leighton, the commissioner; North district, Miss Wilkinson, Miss Lowndes, Mrs. R. P. Matheson, Mrs. Pritchard and Mrs. Midgley, the commissioner.

DELEGATES NAMED

The following delegates were appointed to attend the annual provincial meeting in Vancouver on April 16 and 17: Mesdames Symons, Corby, Ashley Cooper, Pritchard, M. Mackenzie and Miss Yule George. Special thanks were expressed to the I.O.D.E. chapters, without whose financial support it would be impossible for some of the companies to carry on; to Mr. P. E. Corby for many kindnesses and help during the year and to Mr. H. T. Ravenhill for auditing the books. A vote of thanks was also accorded the press.

W.M.S. Quarterly Meeting Held

The quarterly meeting of the Woman's Missionary Society of the First United Church was held Monday afternoon with Mrs. R. W. Mayhew, first vice-president, in the chair, the president, Mrs. A. Chisholm, having left the city to attend the branch meetings in Vancouver which opens there today. Mrs. F. Calvert presided at the piano.

A helpful devotional was conducted by Mrs. Mayhew, who spoke on the theme, "What Christ Means to Me"; several members also expressed themselves on the subject. The corresponding secretary reported a letter received from the C.G.I.T. group expressing appreciation for kindly interest and assistance from members of the auxiliary at their recent banquet. Mrs. Mayhew, on behalf of the auxiliary, requested letters be written to a bereaved member, also to one who is ill. A new member was received.

The April meeting was announced for Monday, April 19, at 1 o'clock, and will be in the form of a luncheon; special invitations to be extended to the associate members. Mrs. R. Craig gave a brief outline of the study book, "Men and Women of Far Horizons," by Jesse R. Wilson, and also told a few very interesting stories from the opening chapter that were narrated by the missionaries, Dr. Harrison, Dr. Judd and Dr. Seagrave.

High lights of the recent Presbyterial were ably reported by Mrs. S. A. Fraser. Following the treasurer's report, submitted by Mrs. A. A. Campbell, Mrs. J. G. McFarlane led in a dedicatory prayer, and the meeting then closed with the prayer hymn, "More Love to Thee."

Burnside P.-T.A.—Burnside P.-T.A. will hold a St. Patrick's card party Wednesday night at 8 o'clock at the school. Prizes and refreshments will be provided. A cordial invitation is extended to all.

Royal Crown Altered For Queen

Canadian Press from Havas

London, March 16.—Court jewelers worked today to make ready the magnificent crown, decorated with the famous Koh-I-Nor diamond, which Queen Elizabeth will wear when she is crowned in Westminster Abbey May 12.

The jewelers, who, according to tradition, remount the crown to fit the head of each successive queen who wears it, will follow a design worked out by the queen herself.

For the first time in history the setting will be of platinum. The circlet will be that worn by Queen Victoria, Queen Alexandra and Queen Mary.

In addition to the Koh-I-Nor, given to Queen Victoria in 1851 by the British India Company, many other famous diamonds will stud the royal headpiece.

The King and Queen, who returned from a week-end at the royal lodge in Windsor last night, gave the first dinner party of their reign, entertaining thirty friends. Queen-Mother Mary was the only other member of the royal family present.

Huxtable. Nomination of officers will take place at this meeting.

Orange Juveniles—Orange Juvenile Association, Pride of Victoria No. 55, held their regular meeting on Saturday, in the Orange Hall, Miss L. Knowles presiding. There was a good attendance and one new member was received into the order. Much business was transacted. The girls are having a busy time preparing for grand lodge sessions, which will be held in Victoria in May.

To Hold Bridge Tea—The social committee of the First Spiritualist Church will hold a bridge game and tea at the 1216 Broad Street in the S.O.E. Hall on Friday, March 19; the bridge game to start at 2 o'clock. Scrip prizes will be given. Tea will be served from 2.30 to 5 o'clock as usual for any one not playing bridge. Readers for the afternoon will be Mesdames Allan, Frampton, Silsby, Youson and Johnson and Mr. Holder.

Baptist Women's Union — The Women's Union of the First Baptist Church held their regular monthly meeting Monday afternoon in the church parlor, Mrs. A. R. Slater, the president, in the chair. Mrs. Finlay gave an inspiring devotional followed by short prayers. Miss Laurie gave an interesting talk on "The Work of the Oriental Home." Miss Gardiner, their kindergarten teacher, accompanied two little Japanese girls from her class who sang three songs sweetly. Mrs. Bent closed the meeting with prayer.

W.A. to Pro Patria.—The general meeting of the W.A. to Pro Patria branch, Canadian Legion, was held recently, the president, Mrs. B. Ripley, in the chair. Mrs. Ripley was appointed as the delegate to attend the Women's Provincial Command executive meeting to be held on April 15. A court whist game will be held in the clubrooms on Thursday at 8 o'clock, the proceeds from the game will be sent to two comrades in Shaughnessy Hospital, Vancouver. A Vimy Day bridge and court whist tea will be held in Spencer's dining-room on Friday afternoon, April 9, at 2.30 and an invitation is extended to all sister auxiliaries and friends to attend. Mrs. Minnis and Mrs. Ferguson were appointed sick visitors for the month.

New York, March 16.—An exhibition of Canadian folk art, fifth annual major exhibition held under the auspices of the National Committee on Folk Arts of the United States, opened here Saturday, to run until April 30.

The exhibition was organized with co-operation of the Canadian Government and the material assembled largely in Canada by Dr. Marius Barbeau of the National Museum of Canada.

MARKET NOTES

A large shipment of bananas for Eastern business is expected to arrive here tonight or tomorrow morning. Carloads of navel oranges and Texas grapefruit are scheduled to arrive tomorrow. Orange prices advanced fifteen to twenty-five cents a case yesterday.

A shipment of Texas spinach reached wholesale row this morning, and a shipment of Mexican tomatoes yesterday afternoon.

Asparagus is selling at a fair price for the early crop, dealers say, and consignments are increasing. Seed potatoes are selling in large quantities.

ALBERNI

Alberni, March 16.—The annual meeting of the junior women's auxiliary to the West Coast Hospital was held on Friday evening, when officers were elected as follows: President, Mrs. Roy Hill; vice-president, Miss Hattie Forrest; secretary, Miss Anne Burke; treasurer, Miss Dora Cox; executive committee, Mrs. J. Clark, Mrs. James Forrest, Mrs. G. Motion, Mrs. Fred McLean.

Mrs. N. E. Roach of Mount Vernon is visiting her daughter, Mrs. E. A. Tyler.

Lithium, potassium, and sodium, the three lightest metals, will float on water.

Intermediates In Programme

The intermediate group of the Musical Art Society held its monthly meeting in the Victoria Trtua Centre Hall on Saturday evening.

After a short business session a most enjoyable musical programme was given by group members, and in addition short addresses by Mrs. W. A. Jameson, honorary president of the group, and Mrs. Allon Peebles, president of the senior society, who were presented with corsage bouquets. Refreshments were served under the convenership of Miss Elsie George.

The programme consisted of: Piano solo, Kay MacDonald; vocal solo, Elsie George, accompanied by Margaret George; piano solo, Tom McMartin, vocal solo, Elaine Basanta, accompanied by June Byrom; violin, John Pepper, accompanied by Ursula Hills; piano solo, Margaret Scoular; vocal solo, Phyllis Corbett, accompanied by Nancy Stephenson; piano solo, Frances Lipton; piano solo, Helen Kent; vocal solo, June Dewar, accompanied by Elsie Friend; piano duet, Thelma Rolfe and Brother Clifford; vocal solo, Doreas Muir, accompanied by Jane Holland, and piano solo, Esther Whittaker from Duncan.

Women Cooks To Enter Contest

Vancouver Housewife Gives Recipe For New York Show

Canadian Press

New York, March 16.—Homemakers who for years have cherished old-world recipes of their mothers and grandmothers, have entered their menus in a huge cookery contest, using food prepared in a modern way. The recipes which once perhaps delighted the palates of Confederate generals in the ante-bellum south will vie, for example, with those of Mary Virneger, an Ontario woman who has submitted her menus written entirely in German.

Women in towering Manhattan apartments as well as homemakers in midwestern towns and farms have rallied to the call. Mrs. H. E. Mason of Vancouver, who submits a typical northwest dinner, writes: "Boiled salmon and boiled potatoes are inseparable. And a meal without prunes in the northwest is unthinkable." Mrs. Mason believes that such a meal is easy to serve, too, because one large platter accommodates most of the meal.

Any housewife whose family has a list of favorite dishes has a good chance to become the national cooking champion of 1937, by combining the dishes into a winning menu, is the opinion of the New York women sponsoring the widespread title-winning competition now in its second year.

FINAL "COOK-OFF"

It will culminate once again with a "cook-off" for the title between the six sectional winners. Since the woman who entered a pot roast dinner won the title last year, it is safe to say that fancy dishes are not the requirement, but that any good meal may be the means of winning this championship.

For the first time in the history of cooking, a competition is being elevated to the ranks of a featured sports tournament with a commentator before the microphone and a gallery in attendance, when the six sectional contestants meet in New York.

As each egg is broken and beaten, as each cup of flour is sifted, a sports commentator will give the audience the "inside dope" on what is taking place. The occasion will be the formal "cook-off" in the second annual championship cookery contest, sponsored by the Women's Exposition, which for the past fifteen years has created a variety of cooking events culminating in this national title event.

The champion after she has battled her way through by cooking her complete menu at the tournament, will win $500 as a prize. Other sectional winners will receive in the order of their achievement, in addition to their all-expense trips to New York, $250, $200, $150, $100 and $100. Two complete kitchens equipped with gas-burning rangers are being installed in the Grand Central Palace where the sixteenth annual Women's Annual Exposition will open March 29 to continue until April 3.

AT WOMEN'S EXPOSITION

A 300-seat gallery is being built adjacent to the two kitchens. Cooks will compete in pairs on three successive nights. Distinguished home economists will eat the complete dinners as they are finished and give their impressions of the food over the air.

To place contestants in all parts of the country on an equal footing, in view of the wide variety of material available, the use of canned foods is being continued. Last year the contest was launched in recognition of the fact that time-saving products are a part of every modern household, but that the housewife often fails to use the same care and ingenuity in creating dishes from canned products.

The competition committee announces that any woman or girl sixteen years old or over, may enter the competition. The menus submitted must be for a complete four-course dinner, including six recipes each sufficient for serving from four to six persons. As many complete-dinner menus as each contestant wishes to prepare will be accepted.

Early Days Of City Recalled

Douglas Chapter Has Luncheon On City's Birthday

A brief description of the early days of Victoria was given by C. H. French yesterday at a luncheon attended by 150 members and guests of the Sir James and Lady Douglas Chapter of the I.O.D.E. in the Hudson's Bay Company dining-room, commemorating the founding of Victoria seventy-five years ago.

Mrs. A. S. Christie, regent of the chapter, was in the chair, and welcomed representatives of the Hudson's Bay Company, the Native Sons, the Native Daughters, and the City to the luncheon.

Mr. French, dressed in an old Hudson's Bay factor uniform, told of the building of Fort Victoria, the search for water here, the friendly relations with the Indians, and the first farming on the Island, when the old Russian ship Baikal used to anchor near the site of the Hudson's Bay Company warehouse recently saved from demolition through the actions of persons interested in Victoria's early history.

The brick warehouse, he said, really was the deciding point in a battle between Esquimalt and Victoria as to where the town should be built.

Mrs. James Brown brought to the luncheon the congratulations of the Native Daughters of British Columbia, and Bruce A. McKelvie expressed the greetings of the Native Sons, saying that the background of good citizenship was the tradition of the country.

Alderman James Adam, representing the city, also complimented the chapter on its admirable work regarding the early history of Victoria.

Mrs. W. Ellis, municipal regent, and Mrs. Colin Cummins spoke briefly. Mrs. B. Parsons read a poem in memory of Sir James Douglas's first landing here, composed many years ago by Ernest McGaffey.

Among those at the head table were Mrs. C. M. McMullin, Mrs. R. B. McMicking, the honorary regent of the chapter; Mrs. French, Mrs. Ethel Shaw and Mrs. McKelvie.

During the luncheon the chairman announced that a bridge party would be held April 2 at the home of Miss Tolmie, Richmond Road, and that the regular meeting of the chapter would be canceled.

Mrs. A. I. Cowan, at the piano, provided music for the luncheon. Placecards, showing the old Hudson's Bay warehouse, were prepared by Miss J. Crease.

The tables were beautifully decorated with narcissi, iris, tulips and daffodils.

Film Society Obtains Pudvokin's "Deserter" For Exclusive Showing

"Deserter," the world-renowed Russian film, is to be brought to Victoria by the local branch of the National Film Society for an exclusive showing next Sunday afternoon at the Oak Bay Theatde, it was announced today by H. J. Davis, president of the society.

The film is being brought west for one showing before the Film Society in Vancouver and the one showing here. To film connoisseurs it is notable for the original sound treatment employed in it by Pudvokin, the producer, and also for its novel treatment of machine scenes.

Preparing for the showing of "Deserter" here, the executive of the Film Society at a meeting at the week-end took cognizance of the non-members who were desirous of viewing this picture. It was decided that new members would be admitted into the society for the balance of the season at the adjust rate of $2.50, or $4 for two persons in one family, applications for membership being made through the Marionette Library, Oak Bay Theatre, or a member of the society.

DICKENS SEEN AS REFORMER

Work For Poorer Classes Told By A. W. Arnup; Moscow Tribute Read

"Was Dickens a Reformer," was the subject chosen by A. W. Arnup, first vice-president, in an address given at the meeting last night of the Victoria branch of the Dickens Fellowship in the clubrooms, Fort Street.

Quoting from a letter written by Charles Dickens to a friend at the time the Reform Bill was being introduced in London, and in which Dickens said, "I am a reformer, a rebel at heart ——," Mr. Arnup outlined how Dickens had exposed through his writings the appalling conditions under which the poorer classes existed and thus drawn the spotlight of public attention toward effecting an improvement.

An essay on beauty, embracing four factors, beauty of face, beauty of literature, beauty of nature and beauty of character, was read by Mrs. M. J. Peacey, who also described a recent visit to "Ye Olde Cock Inn," Fleet Street, where Dickens, Thackeray and Scott met to discuss the topics of their time over a lamb chop.

Capt. Wilfrid Ord, newly-elected honorary president, was heartily welcomed. L. A. Whitlaw was enrolled as a new member.

H. L. Fensham presided.

Your Baby And Mine

MAKE DRINKING FROM CUP A PLEASANT, NON-TERRIFYING EXPERIENCE FOR BABY

To drink from a cup demands that baby who has heretofore swallowed nothing larger than drops, shall learn to swallow mouthfuls of liquids. It is very unusual, because of this, for children to begin at first to take all of the liquids they need in a day, by this much more difficult method.

Mrs. P. P. S. runs the usual danger, though, of allowing her fear, "she won't get enough milk to drink," to act as an excuse for retaining bottles. It is the same fear which keeps mothers indulging children's desire for bottles long past the age when they could, if they tried, drink all their milk by cup.

TAKE AWAY EMPTY BOTTLE

There would be far less opportunity for a child to become wedded to bottles, were the bottle to be taken away immediately after the child had emptied it. So often the mother lets the child go to sleep using the rubber nipple as one would use a thumb or pacifier to woo sleep.

Whatever one's past mistakes in this regard, from six months on, some small portion of milk should be offered daily by cup, so that the baby learns the art of negotiating liquid in this way.

It is right to be patient with the baby's first clumsy attempts to drink. It is always sensible to take the cup away when the child grows peevish and tired of trying to get some food. Sometimes it may take several months for the baby to be willing to take every drop of milk by cup and he may for a long time want to finish each meal with a few swallows from the familiar bottle.

BE PATIENT

But patience, and making the cup drinking a pleasant, non-terrifying experience (as when baby chokes on it,) will prevent bottle drinking becoming so fixed a habit that the child will resent all efforts to divorce him from it. Our leaflet on "Spoon and Cup Feeding" may be had for a self-addressed, 3-cent stamped envelope sent to Myrtle Meyer Eldred of the Your Baby and Mine department of this newspaper.

HOROSCOPE

"The stars incline, but do not compel"

WEDNESDAY, MARCH 17, 1937

Benefic aspects rule today, according to astrology. The stars seem to presage pleasant relations among men of opposing ideas.

In the morning there is a sign read as very favorable to labor. Shorter hours and better wages are forecast for certain workers, but many strikes will continue to disturb industry.

This is a lucky day for launching projects with future possibilities. Heads of business should make much of all the advantages offered under this configuration. But conferences in the evening may be disappointing and should be postponed, since Jupiter frowns on business plans.

Girls should enjoy festivities this evening for it is a propitious time for meeting strangers of opposite sex. Hostesses of all ages should benefit through the planetary influences.

Astrologers long have warned that there was an aspect of Uranus which presaged accidents in the air. Safety inventions have been foretold as successful in the future, but the seers advise against bad weather sailings.

Persons whose birthdate it is have the augury of a year of fair fortune. Employment should be profitable and old friends helpful.

Children born on this day probably will be determined and self-willed. Subjects of this sign usually have sound judgment and practical ideals.

Roger Brooke Taney, jurist, was born on this day, 1777. Others who have celebrated it as a birthday include Walter Q. Gresham, statesman, 1832; Charles Francis Brush, scientist, 1849, and Pierce Butler, Supreme Court justice, 1866.

Hospital Offer Is Withdrawn

Prince Rupert, March 16.—The offer of the Sisters of St. Ann to build and operate a hospital costing not less than $200,000 in Prince Rupert has been withdrawn. The following letter has been sent to the city commissioner and the chairman of the hospital board:

"We beg to advise you that by telegram received this morning from the mother superior of the Sisters of St. Ann at Victoria we have been officially authorized to advise you that, in view of the very acrimonious propaganda now being carried on against the Sisters of St. Ann's offer to build an up-to-date hospital at Prince Rupert, the institution in question is obliged to withdraw its offer.

The Sisters of St. Ann never undertake to build a public hospital in any place unless they are welcomed by the great majority of the people of the community."

Commissioner W. J. Alder expressed his regret at this decision. "It is without doubt the most discouraging news that has been received in this city since I became commissioner," he said.

Mrs. H. W. Notley Laid at Rest

Duncan, March 16.—Funeral services for Mrs. H. W. Notley, nonagenarian resident of Somenos, were held at the Duncan United Church last Friday afternoon, interment being made in Mountain View Cemetery, with Rev. W. F. Burns officiating. The pallbearers were W. B. Buckmaster, F. Sellar, J. Highstead, F. Corbie, W. H. Hargin and T. W. Woods.

Mrs. Notley, who was born in Suffolk, England, in 1846, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. George Beattie, Powell River. She had lived in Canada for forty-four years, spending three years from 1917 to 1920 at Keating and from 1920 on at Somenos and Powell River. She leaves two daughters, Mrs. C. Buckmaster, Somenos, and Mrs. George Beattie, Powell River, and two sons, W. W. Notley, Olds, Alta., and H. H. Notley, Colfax, Calif.; sixteen grandchildren, and one great-granddaughter.

The vast project affiliated with the construction of Boulder Dam consumed more than 30,000,000 pounds of copper.

YOU MAKE RESOLUTIONS? YES?

WELL, here is a good one. Resolve that during the coming Spring and Summer you will get in top condition. This is the easiest and sanest time to start, when fresh air, sun and outdoor exercise are easy to take. Fruits and vegetables are fresher, more plentiful and cheaper. If you will get your system in A1 shape this Summer you will find you are getting more success and enjoyment out of life than you believed possible. You will keep it up next Fall and Winter, too, I know. I brought myself from a physical wreck at 50 to A1 condition in my eightieth year. I would not trade my physical well-being for any earthly possession. To start a new career at 71 and make a great success of it in eight years is an experience that must be very rare, and yet that happy experience is mine. I travel continually over this continent lecturing and daily hundreds of persons tell me I look younger each year. Tens of thousands have seen my photographs on screen at my lectures, which prove I do grow younger looking yearly. My photo at 79 shows me young enough looking at 79 to be the son of the old fellow I was at 64.

To "push up" on your finger tips 10 times you need strong arm, back and stomach muscles!

To grow similarly youthful and be equally successful is the inborn privilege of everyone who has sufficient intelligence to understand and will to change from conventional to rational living habits.

The skin, muscles, sleep, food and the mind all play a part in the retention of youthful and vital bodies and minds on into very advanced life. But the starting point is with foods. Our bodies can be no better than the foods that build them. My body at 79 would shame most men's bodies in the twenties, because of the difference in conventional foods and my foods. Try my diet for just one month. Four-fifths are Roman Meal, Bekus-Puddy, Lishus, raw vegetables and fruits, nuts or cheese and milk. The other fifth anything in food that is sensible. Try this and take a reasonable amount of exercise and walking, a cool rubdown or shower and note the difference in your sense of well-being. Write for my free bulletins on food and health. HER NAME IN LIGHTS

by MARIE BLIZARD

BEGIN HERE TODAY

DAPHNE BRETT, charming young New York advertising executive, rents her deceased father's Connecticut estate to LARRY SMITH, attractive young bachelor architect, and promptly likes him tremendously. Daphne has one sister, six years younger, JENNIFER, just out of college and at her first job.

Jennifer resents Daphne's attempts to guide her and proceeds to date TUCKER AINSLEY, wealthy playboy. Next she meets Larry and, finding he is not married, makes a play for his attentions. This develops a struggle between the sisters for the same man.

One night Larry dates Daphne. At the same time Jennifer, against Daphne's orders, dates one of Tuck's set and comes home at dawn inebriated. The sisters come to a showdown, conciliate, but Daphne, it is clear, is bound to live her own life, marry Tuck Ainsley. She had set her heart on a rich husband from the beginning.

Meanwhile Larry proposes to Daphne—over the telephone. She falls asleep that night, deliriously happy.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER XIII

"Hurry up, Jennifer. Your breakfast is ready."

"I've loads of time." Jennifer, with her hat and coat on, stood in the doorway to the small kitchen. "Neat trick of yours, Miss Brett, setting the clock ahead." She pulled a chair up to the table of the cabinet which served as their morning breakfast table.

"Well, you don't want to lose your job, do you?" Daphne poured cocoa into two cups and snapped off the switch on the toaster.

"I don't care much if I do."

"Oh, Jennifer, please don't! Thirty-five a week is the best you've done and we're getting along so nicely."

"There isn't much future in being a model," Jennifer went on hopefully.

"There might be. Some day you might get to be a photographer's model and, who knows, maybe the movies will be next."

"Daphne! Wouldn't that be wonderful?"

Daphne buttered the toast. "Yes, it would, but I wouldn't entertain the idea. Tell me about last night. Your girl friends usually have a lot of news." Daphne was playing for time. She didn't want Jennifer to ask her what Larry had said.

Jennifer looked at her sister under lowered lids and said casually, "I suppose you heard that Jerry and Peg were married at Armonk on Wednesday."

"No! They eloped? I think that was a shabby thing to do."

* * *

Jennifer put her cup down very carefully. "Why was it? They were both of age and they knew what they wanted. It wasn't anyone else's business if they wanted to."

"It was shabby, Jennifer. Peg is only eighteen and girls that age don't know their own minds. Besides Peg's parents should have been shown more consideration. They wanted Peg to have a good education and see a few more people before she settled down. I don't think that was very considerate of her. I imagine her people will be up in arms."

Jennifer touched a napkin to her pretty mouth. "Well, they'll have to like it now. And you're quite wrong about girls eighteen not knowing their own minds. I think Peg is well off. Jerry has a little money and they'll have a ducky time. Everyone will be giving parties for them and she won't have to worry about a job. I'm all for matrimony. I'm sick of working."

"Lots of us are," Daphne admitted, "but getting married just because you're sick of working seems like a pretty poor reason to me. Marrying because you love a man makes it the best thing in the world but any other way, is my idea of a no-go."

Jennifer laughed. "Grandmaw Brett! Lavender and old lace and love! I suppose you think a bride sits home of evenings and darns her husband's socks while he reads the market reports. Well, I don't."

"Don't you?" Daphne asked and saw a vision of herself sitting at Larry's side while he read her architectural reports. It was a lovely vision. A wistful vision.

"I do not," Jennifer continued. "I think it is cute to find someone you like, someone who has the same idea of fun you have and take your chance. Also, I think just getting into a car and going off somewhere to be married and coming back and telling everyone is fun. It's adventurous."

"Jennifer Brett! It's twenty to nine! You'll have to catch a cab. Here's your purse. Darling, I'm going shopping this afternoon and I won't be home much before five. What time are you coming?"

"I never make plans for Saturday afternoon," Jennifer called back over her shoulder, "but don't worry about me."

* * *

"Miss Brett, you're just the type but you're so restless!" Ann Cockerell squinted her eyes, rubbed her hands on her smock and picked up her charcoal pencil. "Nevertheless, you're a lamb, Daphne, to help me out on your one afternoon off. Just hold it a minute until I fix up the shoulder line and I'll let you off."

Daphne sat motionless on the dais in silence that was unbroken for another ten minutes.

"There, now, I think that will do. Come and tell me what you think of it."

Daphne relaxed and stretched her cramped muscles. Then she stepped off the dais and walked over to the drawing board.

"It's grand," she said. "What time is it? I ought to go."

"Your date isn't until seven and it isn't five yet, so sit down and stop looking like Cornell in one of her tragic moments. Anyone would think you were about to make a mess of your life. Stop dramatizing yourself."

"Please, Anne! Am I really doing that?" Daphne asked surprised.

"Of course you are." Ann passed a tissue cover over her drawing. "It's not like you to do that and I think you ought to snap out of it. Get a new focus on the situation. I admit that you are right but that doesn't make it hopeless or give you any right to feel like a queen of tragedy."

"Maybe you're right. Nevertheless I can't help feeling . . . dramatic. Isn't it dramatic to have to say 'No' to a man you love when you can't tell him the reason?"

"But you're not going to say 'No.' You're going to tell him that you do love him, that you do want to marry him but you believe that you should both wait a little longer. Tell him you think it is only fair to him, that you can't leave your job at once, that you know he has work which should—oh, for goodness sake, darling, you'll know what to say."

"That's just it, I don't! It would be lying. It would be stringing him along and Larry is too fine to get that kind of treatment."

* * *

Anne sat down abruptly, giving Daphne a hopeless glance. "Then, since he is so fine and since you feel that he is part of you why not let him share your trouble? Why not come out flatly and tell him that the reason you won't marry him is because you feel that you've got to take care of Jennifer, that you won't marry him until you have a sum of money in the bank to take care of her independent of his help?"

"I wouldn't do that to him for anything in the world."

"No, you wouldn't. Well, then, why not do something about Jennifer?"

"What can I do about her?" Daphne said wearily.

Anne didn't know any answer to that one.

"I've done everything I know of. She's earning a good salary now but I don't know how long it will last. She's only eighteen you know and I can't expect much from her but if I had a couple of thousand dollars to hang on to until she finds the thing she wants to do or marries some nice boy, I could tell Larry that we could be engaged. But where can I get $2,000?"

"I have it!" Anne said. It will take a lot of determination on your part but you can do it. Tell Jennifer that she must give you $10 a week out of her $35 and jolly well she can. You can save that. That'll be $500 in a year. Then, the extra $50 you got in your raise—and you can save that — will come to around $600. In one year you can save $1,100. A year passes quickly and by that time, Jennifer will have undoubtedly settled down to something. Don't you see?"

Color came into Daphne's face. "Of course I do! Oh, Anne, it seems so simple now. And I have a hunch that Jennifer will take care of this job because she loves the money. Darling, I can ask Larry to wait, can't I?"

Jennifer came in at six. "Well," she said, "that's that. I am again one of the great army of unemployed and I can't say I'm sorry after the passes Mandlebaum made at me before he fired me today."

SPENCER PLAY WELL RECEIVED

The amount of dramatic talent among employees of a department store was proved beyond a doubt yesterday when the Dramatic Club of David Spencer Limited presented Ronald Else's three-act farce, "Love Incorporated," before a large and enthusiastic audience in the auditorium of the Chamber of Commerce.

Some really splendid acting was seen in this little play, and the players behind the footlights seemed to enjoy themselves as much as those in the audience—which is important for the success of any play. There was some nervousness in the first act, and the prompter was kept busy, but all this was forgotten in the second act and the play moved smoothly to the climax.

"Love Incorporated" is a modern comedy, with many romantically absurd angles, handled in the modern fashion. The players become very involved, but everything works itself out and the ending is a happy one.

CHARACTER ACTING

Some good character portrayals were seen in the play, notably those of Jim O'Connor as Knut, a Swedish janitor; Jack Wilson as Muldoon, an Irish policeman; Phoebe Newnham, as Maureen O'Toole, a pert telephone operator and R. A. C. Hokarth, as the rather pompous, but lovable Englishman, Sir Robert Chalmers.

The accents of Sweden, Ireland and England were there to perfection, and many of the actions, too, and these players were greeted with roars of laughter and rounds of applause.

Miss Newnham was particularly vivacious and said "she had her doubts if any person could be civilized and not be Irish." Mr. O'Connor did not say a great deal, but his actions were excellent, and were so good they did not need words. Mr. Hogarth had a difficult role and filled the part very well. He was typical of the role he portrayed.

Loy Owens and Lloyd Cann, as the modern young business men operating "Love Incorporated" were on the stage most of the time and handled the situation well, as did Lilian Songhurst, Rae Conway and Norah Cullen, in the roles of modern ladies. Sam Saunders Jr., appeared as the newsboy.

The play was under the direction of Arthur H. Kedd, well known in local dramatic circles. Mrs. M. Mitchell, as president of the Dramatic Club, headed the executive committee, composed of Sam Saunder, who was also stage manager, and Miss W. Robinson, secretary-treasurer, and to them all must go a great deal of the credit for the success of the play.

During the intermissions popular music was played by Len Acres's Orchestra.

Francis A. Tadman, president of the Sports and Social Club, said a few words before the first curtain.

MEET MONDAY TO SET RATE

Esquimalt 1937 Estimates Will Be Considered at Special Meeting

A special meeting of the Esquimalt Council to give final consideration to the 1937 estimates and to strike the mill rate for the year will be held at 8 o'clock next Monday evening.

The council went into committee with the press excluded last night to give preliminary consideration to the estimates. In previous years this preliminary work has been carried out by the finance committee.

Last year the council struck a rate of 40 mills on land and 50 per cent of improvements, and levied for a deficit of some $7,000. It ended the year with the deficit pared by half. This year the municipality is faced with a somewhat reduced assessment.

No decision on the 1937 mill rate was reached by the council last night, Reeve Alexander Lockley announced this morning. The discussion centred chiefly on policy.

Elevator Operators Win a "Sit-down"

New York, March 16.—The sit-down strike has reverberated unusually in a midtown office building. Entering one morning, the superintendent found the elevator starter squatting contentedly in a camp stool and bawled him out straightaway . . . to no avail. The starter, tired of remaining eternally vertical, had brought his own chair to work and so did his buddies in the local and express cars. They finally won, too.

Ottawa, March 16.—Number of persons killed in railway crossing accidents in Canada during 1936 was 221, Hon. C. D. Howe, Minister of Transport, told J. C. Landeryou, Social Credit, Calgary East, in the House of Commons yesterday.

There were 243 accidents, the minister stated. At protected crossings 113 persons were killed and 367 injured; at unprotected crossings 98 were killed and 322 injured.

Now Ease Neuritis Pains Fast!

Your Own Eyes Tell You How "ASPIRIN" Works

For Amazingly Quick Relief Get "ASPIRIN"

If you suffer from the pains of neuritis what you want is quick relief. That goes without saying.

"Aspirin" tablets give quick relief, for one reason, because they dissolve or disintegrate almost instantly they touch moisture. (Note illustration above.)

Hence—when you take an "Aspirin" tablet it starts to dissolve almost as quickly as you swallow it. And thus is ready to start working almost instantly . . . headaches, neuralgia and neuritis pains start easing almost at once. That's why millions rely on "Aspirin" for relief. Try it. You'll say it is marvelous.

"Aspirin" tablets are made in Canada. "Aspirin" is the registered trade-mark of the Bayer Company, Limited, of Windsor, Ontario. Look for the name Bayer in the form of a cross on every tablet.

Major Hockey Will Lose Four More of Its Veteran Stars

THE SPORTS MIRROR

By PETE SALLAWAY

IT IS INTERESTING to note the reactions of local basketball fans after attending an exhibition game between the Dominoes and one of the touring clubs. Some supporters figure the Victoria boys rank on an even footing with the invaders, while others have it doped out that the visiting players do not always try as wholeheartedly as they might. The writer listened to several heated arguments following Friday evening's close struggle between the Dominoes and the New York Broadway Clowns.

* * *

However, there is one important feature, the most important of all as far as these touring teams are concerned, that a large majority of the fans forget all about, or else they don't figure out. All these barnstorming clubs worry about is putting on a good show. Winning does not mean such an awful lot to them. The important item is to give the fans their money's worth so they will come back again next year. Color and showmanship are uppermost in the minds of the professional players. It is their business to satisfy the public. Fans who attend these exhibitions always expect something new and exciting in the way of clowning and trick plays. That is why the touring players seldom settle down to orthodox basketball.

* * *

It is granted that the Dominoes are better than the average clubs the touring teams run up against. If the local players set a fast pace and keep it up the visitors get little time to put on their show. After all, the touring clubs usually have only five men and it is only common sense they cannot stand the pace against a team that has ten good players to call on, like the Dominoes. No matter how good five men are, they are bound to get tired, playing six nights a week, and traveling thousands of miles by automobile. If the Dominoes during one of these games would get in and clown along with the touring players, then the crowd would get a real exhibition of showmanship and trickery

Seven of the eight American League baseball managers predict great major league careers for Outfielder Joe Di Maggio of New York Yankees and Pitcher Bob Feller of Cleveland Indians, but Manager Rogers Hornsby of the St. Louis Browns wants to wait and see.

* * *

In a reply to a survey, Hornsby disents from the opinion of the other managers by saying:

"My opinion is that a ball player doesn't finally prove himself until he has been in the big leagues at least three years. . . . For every Paul Waner there are a half dozen who turned from star to star-dust during the winter.

"DiMaggio has remarkable hitting power and a great throwing arm . . . but we must see what the next two years do to these players before we organize a torchlight procession in their honor."

* * *

The managers are willing to accept DiMaggio's batting record of .323 in his first year in the league as an honest sample of what the boy can do. They are all a little more reserved in their praise of Feller.

Jimmy Dykes described the young Indian hurler as "a great prospect who has a lot to learn about pitching." Mickey Cochrane of Detroit Tigers writes: "I feel that his delivery may have to be smoothed out a little to avoid arm trouble. He has a definite jerk in his arm and shoulder when delivering the ball." Joe Cronin of the Boston Red Sox and Bucky Harris of the Washington Senators also warned of the danger in Feller's jerky delivery.

* * *

Cachrane and Cronin agree DiMaggio has "the best throwing arm of any outfielder in the American League." Cronin even ventures the opinion the youngster will "be in a very short time the best ball player in the league." All the managers commented on Joe's "naturalness," his lack of tension, and his instinctive ability to make quick decisions on where to throw and where to hit.

* * *

Even the canny Ed. Barrow, business manager of the Yankees, who had the pleasure of announcing Saturday that DiMaggio had signed for $15,000, calls Joe "one of the three greatest centrefielders I have seen in fifty years of baseball."

Joe's own manager, Joe McCarthy, says his sophomore outfielder will be better this year, "due to the fact that he will know more about playing the different hitters."

Original Members Of N.Y. Rangers To Hang Up Togs

Bill Cook, Murdoch, Boucher and Johnson Ready to Quit Active Play

Three Battles Billed Tonight

Canadian Press

New York, March 16.—Hockey's Valhalla — already well-festooned with stars who bowed from the National Hockey League in the 1936-37 season—beckoned today to the four remaining original New York Rangers, Ching Johnson, Murray Murdoch, Bill Cook and Frankie Boucher.

When Rangers fire their final puck of the current campaign these stalwarts are expected to unlace their skates for the last time, ending a total of forty-four years in New York uniforms and a total of fifty-three years playing for pay.

They are the last of the Ranger team that came to Manhattan in 1926. The others were Taffy Abel, Paul Thompson, Stan Brown, Yank Boyd, Bun Cook, Leo Bourgault, Red Mackie, Hal Winkler and Lorne Chabot.

Aside from these four originals, Thompson and Bun Cook are the only others left in the N.H.L.—Bun with Boston and Paul with Chicago Black Hawks.

GREATS HAVE PASSED

If Johnson, Bill Cook, Boucher and Murdoch retire it will complete the largest exodus of stars from the N.H.L. in a season that has seen some of the game's greatest greats go to the sidelines.

They will join Howie Morenz, Canadiens' immortal centre, who died last week; Toronto's flashy Joe Primeau; Alex Connell, the stone-faced Ottawa goalie; Alberta's Eddie Shore, the peerless Boston defenceman; little Roy Worters, New York Americans' goalie; George Hainsworth, who guarded the Canadiens and Toronto nets for so long, and Frank "King" Clancy, the battle-scarred Ottawan who fought through thick and thin for the Toronto Leafs.

Johnson and Boucher, it is believed, would like coaching jobs.

GAMES TONIGHT

Games scheduled in the N.H.L. tonight follow:

Canadiens at Maroons.
Toronto at Boston.
Chicago at Rangers.

WALLA WALLA WINS OPENER

Northwest Basketball Champions Advance in Denver A.A.U. Tourney

Canadian Press

Denver, March 15.—Two highly regarded college teams, only seeded collegiate outfits in the meet, drove into the third round of the National Amateur Athletic Union basketball tournament with convincing triumphs last night.

Long Island University, New York metropolitan champion, dazzled a crowd of 4,000 with sensational goal shooting in beating the extra-tall West Texas Teachers, 38 to 30.

Central Missouri Teachers, Mussouri Intercollegiate Athletic Association titlist, sent another Texas team, Stephen F. Austin Teachers, out of basketball's headline show with a 50 to 34 victory.

The Walla Walla, Wash., Mitchells, another powerful looking entrant who downed Dominoes of Victoria, B.C., in the Pacific Northwest final opened the first round yesterday afternoon by walloping the Cincinnati Kings 66 to 26, posting the highest score of the tourney to that point.

City Cue Play Now Under Way

With leading players entered the annual city billiards and snooker championships will get under way this week at the Metropolis Billiard Parlors, Yates Street.

First rounds in each competition must be completed by March 25.

SPOKANE IS GAME ON TOP

Clippers Defeat Vancouver Lions 2 to 0 in Coast Hockey Play-off

Associated Press

Vancouver, March 16.—Spokane Clippers needed only one more game to qualify to meet the Portland Buckaroos in the finals of the Pacific Coast Hockey League playoffs today. They polished off Vancouver Lions 2 to 0 in the first game of a best-of-three semi-final series here last night.

The next game will be played here tomorrow night, and a third if necessary will be staged Friday.

Sam Timmins, Clipper netminder, turned in a stellar perormance as he broke up numerous Vancouver rushes on the doorstep of his citadel.

Vancouver carried the play throughout the first two periods, but Timmins proved invincible as the Lions could neither shoot nor shove the disc into his cage. In the final session the Clipper defence had the Lions badly disorganized, and found no trouble in bottling them up at the Spokane blue line.

OPENING GOAL

Ron Moffatt, Spokane left winger, bagged the first counter two minutes after the game started, when he picked up Hal Picketts rebound at the blue line to beat Jackson with a waist high shot.

Clippers increased their lead near the five-minute mark of the second session, Walt McCartney getting loose near the left corner of the net to sift an easy shot between Jackson's legs, as the goalie went down to save.

SUMMARY

First period—1, Spokane, Moffatt, 2.30. Penalties: Kenny, Pickets.

Second period—2, Spokane, McCartney, (Holmes-Webster), 5.16. Penalties: Mercer.

Third period—No scoring. Penalties: None.

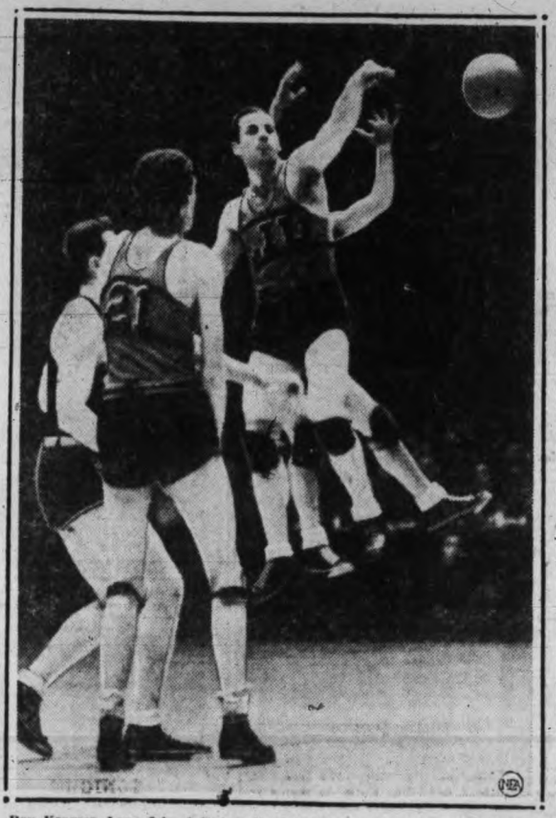
Kimberley In Fourth Defeat

London, March 16.—Kimberley Dynamiters suffered the fourth defeat of their long tour last night when Wembley Lions smothered them under, 11 to 2. Previously the touring Allan Cup champions were defeated by Lions, Harringay Racers and Harringay Greyhounds.

Dynamiters' defence was weak. Albert Lemay, Winnipeg, found little difficulty sifting through for three goals, and his brother, Tony, and Ed Murphy, Ottawa, each got two. Jo Jo Grabowski, Cornwall, Ont.; Gordon Dailley and Cam Shewan, Winnipeg, and Bobby Walton, Ottawa, also scored for Lions, while the Kimberley marksmen were Ralph Redding and Doug Kiever.

Dynamiters are going to the Continent to play an all-star Belgian team. They are scheduled to play two games in Brussels, March 21 and 23.

Suspended Suspense



Ben Kramer, Long Island University forward, passes while suspended in the air as the Blackbirds repelled Manhattan College, 41 to 20, at Madison Square Garden in the series for the New York City basketball championship. A fight between players and rooters covered the floor with belligerents as the Brooklyn squad led, 32 to 16, three minutes before the final whistle. It was broken up by police.

Hoop Playoffs Tomorrow Night

Bob Whyte's Burnetts and Bob Dyamond's Metropolitans, local quintettes, will meet up-island teams tomorrow night at the High School gym in island play-off games.

Nanaimo Redettes will clash in the opener with the Burnetts in the final game of the women's senior B series. The up-island team will take the floor with a one-point advantage, obtained in the first game of the series played last week in Nanaimo.

Mets will oppose Duncan in the second game on the card, in the junior boys' final. Unitys and Cardinals, local girls' teams, will meet in an exhibition game for the final tussle.

The first game will get underway at 7 o'clock.

MASSY WINS MAIN FIGHT

Defeats J. Field in Light-heavyweight Final at University School Show

The light-heavyweight championship of the University School went to D. H. Massy yesterday evening when he hammered his way to fine win over J. Field, after an interesting top bout on the card presented at the Mount Tolmie gymnasium. Massey, who weighed seven pounds less than his opponent, along with Escobar, who won the bantamweight championship by defeating Jones, were declared the most scientific boxers at the institution.

G. H. Scarrett, B.A., headmaster at the school, following the last bout, addressed the guests, which numbered about 125, and expressed his thanks to officials and spectators for showing such a keen interest in the school. He noted the great value of boxing.

Al McKinnon, instructor, refereed all the bouts, while Reg Wenman was the timekeeper. Lieut.-Commander Wutrele, John Garnt and Frank Skillings acted as judges.

Complete results of the ten bouts follow: Dut weight, Young II won from Norman; paperweight, Clarke won from North; bantamweight, Escobar won from Jones; flyweight, Coe and Usher fought to a draw; lightweight, Jeannerett won from Gagnon; featherweight, Jones won from Taylor; welterweight, Darling won from Ireland; middleweight, Everett won from Dark; light heavyweight, Massy won from Field.

Young Swim Stars To Claim Records

FARR TAKES RING TITLE

Decisions Foord to Capture British Heavyweight Championship

Canadian Press

London, March 16.—Great Britain's new heavyweight champion, Tommy Farr, sprang a surprise today when he announced he probably would not meet Max Baer, former world titleholder, on April 15 as scheduled.

"Our contract calls for a fight with either Baer or Walter Neusel," the Welshman said, "and I want to meet Neusel next."

WON EASILY

Farr clearly outpointed Foord, whose face was a bloody smear at the finish. The South African could do little with Farr's defence. Once Foord swung a haymaker right, missed completely, spun around like a top and sat down on his haunches while Farr stood grinning delightdly.

Farr himself sat down for a count of one in the first round after Foord tapped him on the jaw.

Baer, who has turned out to be a great favorite with London crowds, beamed contentedly from the ringside. He got a great hand when he was introduced from the ring.

Molly White and Herbert Hartnell Set Up Fast Times as City Championship Meet Staged; Y.M.C.A. Representatives Dominate Meet

Molly White and Herbert Hartnell, young Pacific Club swimmers, held the spotlight yesterday evening as coach Archie McKinnon's Y.M.C.A. mermaids and mermen took the major share of the honors in the city swimming meet at the Crystal Garden to win by a handy point total.

Frank Hyslop's two proteges may soon be holders of the Canadian junior fifty yards breaststroke records. Miss White negotiated the distance in 44 1-5 and young Hartnell swam the pool length in 37, application as records for which will be made to the Canadian Amateur Swimming Association. The records are open at present.

On hand with a strong contingent, the Y swimmers rang up eighty-seven points, more than the combined totals of the Pacific Club and the V.A.S.C. The Pacific Club was second with forty-one points, while the latter club trailed with twenty-one points.

OUR MAIL BAG

INTERMEDIATE RUGBY

To the Sports Editor:—May I be permitted to congratulate the Oak Bay Wanderers on their latest triumph: to wit—the fiasco, misnamed a league fixture, staged at the Naval Barracks grounds last Saturday.

On that day, College, at the bottom of the league, turned out to meet the Wanderers, league leaders, who presently arrived with a schooboy referee, one of their own club players to officiate at the game. The happenings of the seventy minutes of play can be more easily imagined than described.

On March 6, the Fifth Brigade, who were twenty minutes late at Oak Bay Park, lost by default to the Wanderers. This, in spite of the fact that at the previous game with Scottish, the latter waited nearly half an hour for the Oak Bay team. There was no protest from the Scottish and the game was played to a 3 to 3 draw.

GOOD FISHING IS REPORTED

Saanich Inlet Offers Fine Grilse Run; Trout Take at Kemp Lake

Fishing activities are beginning to boom again in Saanich Inlet. On Sunday a number of enthusiasts landed as many as fourteen grilse. Fly fishing at Kemp Lake, Sooke, attracted several casting experts, with Joe Jewkes, taking the honors with a basket of eight good-conditioned cutthroat trout.

Capt. W. E. Tapley and his son "Laurie" reeled in eight large grilse and one jack spring at the Inlet, while Lloyd Jones and Jack Caddell landed fourteen. Frank E. W. Smith landed a fourteen-pound salmon. Johnny Barr and party succeeded in catching four grilse and a like number of springs.

The best grilse fishing spot on the arm proved to be off the shore around the Indian Reserve. Many of the boats went up the inlet first but their luck was slim there. They returned to Brentwood and got their catches off the Reserve and Whittaker's Point.

Practically all who fished Kemp Lake got at least two or three specimens. Best fishing was to be had in the morning. The fish weigh in the neighborhood of three-quarters to one pound, with the size ten March Brown fly, most effective.

An exhibition billiard match will be staged tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock in the clubrooms of the Naval Veterans, corner of Johnson and Broad Streets, between Capt. E. Bridges, Veterans of France cue artist, and W. Crowther, Army and Navy expert. It will be a 500-point game. Members and their friends are invited to attend.

Three Tied For Scoring Honors

Larry Aurie, Syl Apps and Marty Barry Have Forty-three Points in Major Hockey Race; Injured Aurie Best Goal Getter

Montreal, March 16.—Three scorers are blanketed at the head of the parade, according to official National Hockey League statistics, as the league swings into the last week of its schedule.

The big three, with forty-three points apiece, are rookie Syl Apps, Toronto Maple Leafs; Larry Aurie, Detroit Red Wings, now out for the season with a broken ankle, and his linemate, Marty Barry. Apps and Barry overtook Aurie during the week.

(The league figures indicate a "mystery" assist for Barry somewhere along the line, for newspaper tabulation gives him only seventeen goals and twenty-five assists, whereas the official statistics credit him with twenty-six assists. On the other hand, Bob Gracie, Montreal Maroons, figured at thirty-two points in newspaper count, is given only thirty-one by the league).

OTHER LEADERS

Behind the first three comes Sweeney Schriner, New York Americans, with forty points, followed by Harvey Jackson of the Leafs, a notch behind.

Aurie's twenty-three goals make him the leading sniper, though Butch Keeling, of the New York Rangers, with twenty-two, heads the now active players in this branch. Apps is still top man in assists, his twenty-eight putting him two up on Barry.

The dubious honor of chief badman goes again to Red Horner of the Leafs. His 118 minutes of penalties are twenty-four ahead of Allan Shields, Boston Bruins.

Yanks Will Stand Pat On Ball Team

World Champions to Open American League Campaign With Same Lineup As Last Season; Gehrig and Ruffing Expected to Sign Soon

By PAUL MICKELSON
Canadian Press

St. Petersburg, Fla., March 16.—Joe McCarthy is standing pat with his New York Yankees.

The powerhouse club that tore the American League apart, smashed out 182 home runs, scored 995 runs and walked home with the pennant by nineteen and half games in 1936, is good enough in the shrewd McCarthy books.

Except for a battle between Alvin Powell, Myril Hoag and Ernie Koy, a big rookie up from the Newark farm, virtually every position on the world's championship baseball team appears to be clinched by the boys who shattered records last season. McCarthy is in the market for good pitchers, but chances are that his old staff, best in the league on an earned run basis in 1936, will do all the firing.

Searching for an Achilles heel on the ball club, the spotlight falls on thirty-three-year-old Tony Lazzeri, who operates at second base. Tony surprised everyone by lasting the entire 1936 season, but whether he can go through another is probably the only question that confronts the Yankees. Without Tony working second, supplying advice and steadying the infield, the world's champs undoubtedly would have trouble. Right now, Tony looks like he's good for another two or three years at least and McCarthy certainly hopes so.

No one is figuring without first baseman Lou Gehrig and pitcher Red Ruffing. The two holdout artists are sure to line up by the time the pennant race opens, giving the Yankees the same lineup that started the final world series game—Crosetti, ss; Rolfe, 3b; Gehrig, 1b; Dimaggio, cf; Dickey, c; Selkirk, rf; Powell, lf, and Lazzeri, 2b.

Jane climbed back into the plane, to find Princess Sborov weeping and blubbering over her husband. "He's dead! He's dead! Oh, my poor darling. Annette, my smelling salts!" "Oh, shut up," snapped Brown, "the sap aint dead, he's just scared stiff."

"Never mind, Brown," said Jane, "there's something more important to do than quarrel. Go back to the baggage compartment and see if you can find a gun. I'll have to kill that lion." Brown disappeared and returned shortly with a big elephant rifle.

"I couldn't find no ammunition," he said. He turned then to the Prince, who was slowly reviving. "Where's the ammunition packed?" "Ammunition?" the Prince repeated with vagueness; "oh, I thought, in Nairobi—." "You mean you didn't bring none. Well, of all—"

"I've a firearm in my bag," Tibbs interrupted proudly; "I'll kill the beast." He moved toward the doorway, then stopped suddenly in flushing embarrassment. "I forgot," he stammered; "my bag has already been lowered down there with the bloomin' lion!"

CHEMAINUS

Chemainus, March 16. — The monthly meeting of the Ladies' Aid and Mission Circle of Calvary Baptist Church was held last Thursday at the home of the president, Mrs. F. Bristow, Fuller's Lake. It was decided to hold a shamrock tea March 17, at the home of Rev. and Mrs. E. M. Cook. Tea was served by Mrs. Bristow.

The monthly business meeting of the Woman's Auxiliary to St. Michael's Church was held in the parish hall last Thursday, Mrs. T. L. Hipp presiding. It was decided to hold a tea on April 9, with a sale of candy and mystery parcels. Mrs. Walter Porter will be tea convener and Mrs. A. O. Alken and Mrs. W. H. Rice will have charge of the parcels.

Along the Tigris River, Turkish farmers raise watermelons so large that 100 pounds is not unusual, and melons weighing 150 pounds have been reported.

Dorothy Dix's Letter Box

DEAR MISS DIX—I married a divorced man and at his request our marriage was kept secret for two years. He is very jealous, and after one occasion when he came into the office where I work and made a scene and demanded his wedding ring back, my mother forced him to announce our marriage and take me to live with him. I adore my husband, and except for his jealousy he is nearly perfect, but there are many things in my life that keep me almost on the point of leaving him. One is that his mother lives with us, and Heaven didn't mean for a man's wife and mother to call the same place home. Another reason is that he lets his son by his divorced wife use his car, and I am supposed to beam with joy when he brags about the boy. Another is that the first wife still uses his name and I want to be the only Mrs. Jones. Another is that my husband does not resent my being called "Miss Smith" by the people I am associated with in business, as I was before I was married. And another is that my husband constantly compares me with Wife No. 1, and says she did so and so, or didn't do this or that. What do you think I should do?

CONSTANT READER.

Answer: Try to cultivate a little common sense, in which you seem to be abnormally deficient. Accept the situation in which you find yourself and which you deliberately chose, and make the best of it. After all, it isn't so bad.

I agree with you that it is unfortunate when a mother-in-law and daughter-in-law have to live together, for no two women can live under the same roof without getting on each other's nerves, but even that is what you make it. You can make her a friend or an enemy, as you will, for there are very few old ladies who cannot be won over by a young woman who will take the trouble to be kind and considerate to them, who will make them feel welcome in their sons' houses and who will not respond to a little affection.

After all, a daughter-in-law owes much to the woman who has given her a good husband. You might think of that a little. And you might also remember that perhaps sometime you will be the unwanted mother-in-law in your son's house, and so treat your mother-in-law as you would like to be treated.

As for your other troubles, when you married a divorced man you must have known that you would face complications arising out of his previous marriage. You know that you could never possibly be the only Mrs. Jones, because there was another one who had as good a right to the name as you have, so why make that a grievance now?

And surely you are not heartless enough and selfish enough to wish your husband not to love his son and have pride in him, when he is his own flesh and blood. And you are silly in objecting to being called "Miss Smith" in business, when it is the common custom for women to keep their names as a sort of trade-mark if they succeed in business or a profession. Don't go out of your way to borrow trouble. Plenty of it will come to you as you go along.

DEAR DOROTHY DIX—As soon as we were married my wife set herself to correct what she considered my faults and blemishes and to make me over according to her own ideas. She found fault with everything I did and said. My dress, my table manners, my accent and modulation of voice, the statements I made, the phrases I used all came in for bitter censure, and for me to transgress her code brought on a scene. If I protest at all my wife declares that she will "just let me go, and never try to help me again," "let me make a fool of myself if I choose," etc., until she makes me feel that I bore her to death and that she is ashamed of me. The situation makes it impossible for me to show her the little attentions I would like to. I dare not send flowers because they are sure to be the wrong kind, or get there at the wrong time, or nobody is wearing flowers. I cannot even carry a conversation because I speak too abruptly, or am too positive in my statements, or I am argumentative, so all that is left for me is to keep silence and then be accused of being dumb. We are both young enough to have many more years of life, and it is a dreary prospect if we must live it together. Can you make any suggestions about how matters can be helped?

J. C.

Answer: I am afraid not. A fault-finding woman can never be reformed, because she is always so self-righteously convinced that her persecutions are all for the good of her victim. In a thousand years you couldn't make her see that it is nothing but overweaning self-conceit that makes her believe that she is an oracle who knows more than any one else and that she is a paragon upon whom every one should model themselves.

Why women don't marry men of whom they approve in the first place, instead of marrying men who are apparently everything they disapprove, is a mystery past finding out. It can only be explained on the theory that they get a kind of sadistic pleasure out of tearing their husbands apart as they do their dresses and hats and making them over according to their own tastes. But it is an agonizing process for the poor creatures who have major surgical operations performed on their habits and their conversation and have all of their pet stories and ways removed from them.

No man is more to be pitied than the one who has a critic on his hearth. The only remedy I can suggest for dealing with the past is to give her a dose of her own medicine. Criticize her as severely as she criticizes you. Show up her faults and foibles. Turn the spotlight on her peculiarities and you can frighten her into silence. She will be afraid of retaliations.

DEAR MISS DIX—I dye my hair because I can get a more becoming shade than my own is. My fiance raves about my black hair, but as he stresses that there should be no secrets between us shall I tell him before we are married?

MARION.

Answer: Certainly. This is one time when the truth is indicated, because he would find out as soon as you were married. Anyway, if he doesn't love you for anything but your hair you've got a slight hold upon him.

The World's Largest Desert

II—SAHARA TRAVEL

The old and time-honored form of travel in the Sahara is with camels. These strange-looking beasts are not friendly by nature, but they have been helpers of men for many hundreds of years.

Motors speed travel on the desert.

The dromedary, or one-humped, camel is common in northern Africa. It can cover twenty-five or thirty miles in a day with little or no trouble.

Some Sahara camels have been specially trained and can make as much as 250 miles in a five-day journey, doing without water all the time. Records of from ninety to 100 miles in a single day are claimed for certain "pacing" camels. Pacing camels speed along with a rocking motion which may make the rider wish he could have more comfort in his traveling.

We speak of camels going without water for days at a stretch, but we must remember that the animals have pouches in their stomachs for storing water. One pouch will hold as much as six quarts of water. After taking a great drink, the camel uses the water slowly. Now and then travelers in danger of dying from thirst on the desert kill a camel in order to drink water stored in the pouches.

The name "caravan" has been traced back to an old Persian word meaning "people" or "army." It is used to describe a large number of people and camels traveling across the desert. Certain Sahara caravans have contained more than 1,000 camels, and have stretched out for a distance of two or three miles.

The goods transported by caravans include dates, cotton, salt, gold, ivory and grain. A single full-grown camel can carry a load of half a ton.

Caravan travel is slow. A journey from the northern edge of the Sahara to Timbuctu near the southern edge may take two or three months. Fourteen years ago the French Government ordered the same trip to be made in motor vehicles of the tractor type, and the distance was covered in two weeks. This test led to other motor journeys across the Sahara.

Plans to lay railroads across the great desert have been made, but have not been realized so far. A still more modern method of travel has come, however—the airplane, which needs neither roads nor rails. Airplanes cross the Sahara from north to south, and from east to west. The crossing can be finished between dawn and sunset.

BRITISH ARMS KEEPING PEACE

Kiwanis Club Holds Debate on Defence From Vancouver Island Angle

"War today is farther away for the nations of the world than at any time in the last four years—and the only reason is that Great Britain is back on her feet as regards arms," Colonel F. Brooke J. Stephenson told the Kiwanis Club today at the conclusion of a general debate on Vancouver Island's part in Canadian and world defence.

Four members of the club took part in the discussion, and opinions voiced were that while armaments were not basically desirable they were the only guarantee of peace in the world today, that Canada should take her own share in defence, and that Vancouver Island was a key to the Dominion's defence policy.

Canada, which had depended too long on British support and in a smug way on the execution of the Monroe Doctrine by the United States was at last realizing her responsibilities in Empire defence, said Atwell D. King, opening the discussion.

SINGAPORE COUNTERPART

He looked to Vancouver Island as the counterpart of Singapore in the Empire's defence scheme for the Pacific.

Colonel Stephenson did not believe Canada should rely too greatly on the Monroe Doctrine. The fact that Canada was not invited to join with all the other North American nations in discussions on peace policies was an indication of this, he said.

"If the United States and Great Britain would come together they could dictate peace to the whole world, militarily, navally and economically," he added.

Rev. E. F. Church warned against the danger of the feeling for defence, necessary in present circumstances, turning into one of military dominance. "Let us beware of any feeling of superiority that would give offence to other nations," he said.

C. J. McDowell asked why Britain and the United States, if they believed in world peace, had advanced the money for German rearmament and for Italy's present adventure in Spain.

The club was entertained with duets by Austin Curtis and Frank Tupman, accompanied at the piano by Len Acres, and with a song and recitation by Catherine Craig.

Walter M. Walker presided.

Remodel Yates Street Block

A permit for $11,000 remodeling and alterations to the premises at 1015 Yates Street was issued by the city building inspector's department today to the Northwestern Creameries Limited.

J. Graham Johnson is architect for the work which will be done by Parfitt Brothers Limited.

The project covers alteration of a bakeshop into a dairy with modern freezing equipment, a soda fountain and an up-to-date store front, laying of masonry floors, rebuilding of the boiler room and work at the back of the premises to permit loading and unloading of heavy delivery trucks from the View Street entrance.

No Rulings By B.C. Cabinet

The Premier said routine matters had engaged the attention of the government.

Questioned regarding health insurance, the Premier said an announcement would be made when the matter had been decided.

It is presumed that consideration of some of the major matters of policy is being delayed until the full cabinet is in Victoria. Hon. K. C. MacDonald is in Kamloops today and Hon. F. M. MacPherson is in Ottawa in connection with road policies.

There will also be a programme of children's dances, recitations and songs. In the evening at 8 o'clock bridge and five hundred will be played.

St. John's A.Y.P.A. met in the guildroom last Monday. Prayer was led by Rev. W. Bolster. William Oldfield was initiated into the branch. Mr. Bolster spoke on "The Malay States," relating some amusing incidents which occurred while he was assistant commissioner of police in that part of the world.

Robert Creelman, passenger traffic manager, Canadian National Railways, Winnipeg, who has been on the coast for some days supervising plans for handling the summer's business, is in Victoria today to enjoy a short holiday before returning east. C.N.R. reaction to the approaching season's travel prospects, he said, has been to overhaul and modernize practically all units of the company's passenger equipment.

Three committee sessions were scheduled for members of the City Council this afternoon as the different groups considered matters relating to fire protection, anniversary celebration and B.C. Electric franchise issues. The fire wardens were expected to complete their consideration of departmental estimates this afternoon, while the anniversary group was making progress reports. Tomorrow the finance committee is scheduled to meet the members of the School Board at a morning session, at 10.30 o'clock, to consider possible further revision of the educational estimates.

Morality Cases To Higher Court

William J. Burnes and Allan McKechnie were committed for trial by Magistrate Henry Hall in the Saanich Police Court this morning on statutory offences. They were committed on separate charges, hearings of which were held during the last week. Burnes was released on $4,000 bail.

Preliminary hearing of a second charge against Burnes opened in Saanich Court this morning. Additional charges will be heard against McKechnie later in the week.

KILLING TWICE WEEK IN B.C.

Credit Granters Hear Motorists Killed 192 People Last Year

"Someone is sentenced to death and executed every three days in British Columbia," the Retail Credit Granters' Association was informed today at its luncheon in Spencer's dining-room.

"Suppose we were to hang someone every three days you would think that we had a tremendous amount of lawlessness," the speaker said, "but when you read about motor accidents, you just say 'oh' in rather a bored way and turn over the page."

Last year British Columbia motorists killed 192 people and did a property damage of $376,000, according to provincial police figures.

Only 5 per cent of the motorists on the roads of the province were dangerous, told, but the difficulty was to segregate this 5 per cent.

The modern automobile was a perfect piece of machinery and quite safe, "but put a perfect piece of machinery in the hands of an imperfect man and something is bound to happen."

The credit granters learned that it took three-quarters of a second for an impulse to be turned into action, so that a motorist traveling at sixty miles an hour, eighty-eight feet per second, would travel sixty-six feet before he started to apply the brakes and another 198 feet before the brakes could stop the car, making a total distance of 264 feet.

At forty miles an hour a motorist could stop in 146 feet. At night it was correspondingly dangerous and anything over thirty miles an hour was dangerous.

"The trouble at night time is that you over-ride your lights," the speaker said, "you see an object and you're on top of it before you can stop."

G. A. A. Hebden, president of the Credit Granters, was in the chair.

DROPS DEAD AT SOOKE SIPHON

Nelson Powell McDonald, fifty-seven, of 1720 Haultain Street, an employee of the city on the Sooke siphon replacement project, dropped dead at work this morning.

Reports received at the City Hall said Mr. McDonald was stricken shortly after he started work on the project at 8 o'clock this morning.

He was born at Yale, B.C., on October 8, 1880. Mr. McDonald was a veteran of the South African War.

The remains were forwarded to Hayward's B.C. Funeral Parlors, where funeral arrangements will be made later.

DRIVE OVER 1936 MARK

Y.M.C.A. Has Collected to Date Over $7,000; Final Meeting Friday

Over $2,000 over the corresponding mark of last year, Y.M.C.A. workers at a meeting yesterday evening reported $7,162.45 had been collected to date in the 1937 drive or funds. This total represents 624 pledges.

Oon a motion by Warren W. Martin it was decided to continue the campaign until Friday when the final figures will be announced.

To date, teams led by J. V. Johnson, E. J. Fatt, Sam Hill, Grant Paterson, J. A. Heritage, S. J. D. Clack, F. A. Willis and J. E. Flack have surpassed their individual objectives of $500. W. W. Martin's division, however, leads the way for the four division with a total of $1,187.86 representing 216 subscriptions.

Honors for yesterday evening's reports went to W. W. Martin with the highest division total. His division reported forty-seven pledges for $176, while F. A. Willis was the highest captain with seven pledges for $75.

In reminding the workers the final report meeting of the campaign would be held on Friday evening, J. O. Cameron, chairman of the drive, said he felt confident the objective of $9,000 would be reached if not surpassed by the end of the week.

Says Ladysmith Coming Into Own

"Undoubtedly Ladysmith is coming into its own. For a long time the people who have lived there all their lives never talked of anything but the past. Now they are beginning to think about the future," said E. Rowe, manger of the Travelers' Hotel at the up-island city, in an interview at the Dominion Hotel this morning.

Mr. Rowe is in Victoria on a purchasing trip in connection with modernizations at the hotel.

He cannot understand why Ladysmith has not been given more publicity as a tourist centre. Many guide books, he says, simply list the city as a mining centre, when actually there never have been any mines closer than seven miles away.

Some of the beaches across the bay from Ladysmith are unique on Vancouver Island, he said this morning. "You could go to some of them in a blue serge suit and roll around in the white shels, stand up and shake yourself off, and no sign of it would show," he said.

Obituary

HELEN E. BRUCE WHILIAMS

The remains are resting at McCall Brothers' Funeral Home. The funeral will take place on Thursday afternoon from St. Mark's Church, Boleskine Road, where services will be conducted by Rev. O. L. Jull at 2 o'clock, after which interment will be in the family plot at Ross Bay Cemetery.

Will Temporarily Repair Ship Here

Yarrow's Limited was today awarded the contract for temporary repairs to the new British motorship Queen Anne, which was floated into the Dominion Government drydock at Esquimalt yesterday morning.

Work was started this afternoon and will take five or six days. When the ship returns to Scotland, where she was launched, a few months ago, she will be permanently repaired.

She ran aground in the Gulf Islands Saturday night.

BISHOPS SCORE REARMAMENT

British Defence Programme Criticized By Two Anglican Leaders

Canadian Press

London, March 16.—Britain's huge defence programme has provoked expressions of regret from sections of the Anglican episcopacy.

"That in time of peace the nation should be called on to accept an expenditure of £1,500,000,000 ($7,500,000,000) for rearmament forebodes both the present bankruptcy of our political management and the future bankruptcy of our economic order" says The Liverpool Diocesan Review, edited by Rt. Rev. Albert A. David, Bishop of Liverpool.

"Where will this race in armaments end and whither will it lead the nation?" asks Rt. Rev. G. K. A. Bell, Bishop of Chichester. Deploring the government's defence preparations, he urges the Coronation year should see "an immense new effort at reconciliation."

British people, the Bishop of Chichester maintains, are not naturally bellicose and he doubts if citizens of any European country seek to destroy citizens of other countries having no personal grudge against them. He refuses to believe the right way to achieve peace is by preparation for war by the different nations. If war were to break out between the great powers of Europe, he declares, the destruction wrought could never be repaired.

Travel Agents Are Contacted

Ivan Beecroft Attracts Attention to Victoria in Southern California

Ivan J. Beecroft, who represents the Victoria and Island Publicity Bureau at the international border at Blaine to direct the flow of tourist traffic to Victoria, is now in Southern California contacting travel agents in preparation for the coming season.

He is busy telling the people of San Francisco and Los Angeles that in automobile tourist travel alone Victoria registered an increase of 55 per cent during 1936 as compared with the previous year.

"And this will be a better year," Mr. Beecroft told the San Francisco Commercial News.

Victoria's Diamond Jubilee will prove an added magnet to visitors coming to the northwest this year, he said.

Valuable work is done by Mr. Beecroft who, as contact man, makes personal calls all down the coast on men who sell travel to the tourists. He also contacts the agencies dealing with motorists and his work in this direction has proved most effective.

Mr. Beecroft travels about in a car painted in vivid colors and covered with emblems advertising Victoria and Vancouver Island.

"Many thousands of persons pause and inspect this novel advertising stunt," says the Commercial News. "All of this helps and Victoria goes on about the business of inviting tourists and gets them at a cost which has filled the souls of many American Chamber of Commerce executives with envy. Our Canadian cousins are now raising a most important crop of tourists."

Mr. Beecroft, reporting by letter today to George I. Warren, publicity commissioner, said he had been most successful in contacting tourist travel agencies throughout California. Prospects of travel to Victoria from California this year, he said, were particularly good. It was California who led the march here last year, and the sunny state plans to duplicate the record this season.

Jubilee Needs Greater Space

Board's Request For Aid on $300,000 Wing Turned Down By Government

Turned down by the provincial government in an application for aid in building a $300,000 new wing to the Royal Jubilee Hospital, the hospital directors at their next meeting will consider ways and means of finding extra accommodation to meet an acute condition of overcrowding, Hugh Allan, president, said today.

"Last week we had more beds occupied than ever before—356 all told," Mr. Allan said. "We haven't got a man's ward bed vacant at the moment. Most of the sunrooms are in use."

Mr. Allan, with F. E. Winslow and Dr. T. W. Walker, called on Hon. John Hart, Minister of Finance, yesterday, to discuss the hospital's position.

"We were told there was no money available for the purpose," Mr. Allan said. "The $3,000,000 loan recently floated by the province is to go for road purposes. We were assured of every sympathy but it was suggested we defer the matter until after the Dominion-provincial commission has straightened out the questions between the governments."

Mr. Allan said that in the hospital's present position, if health insurance is started by the government it can only mean the institution will be swamped for accommodation, as the insurance is bound to mean an increase in hospitalization.

U.S. SHINGLE IMPORTS CUT

Associated Press

Seattle, March 16.—A revival in the United States Northwest's red cedar shingle industry, in which 6,000 men are employed, was seen here today by Charles McGrath, secretary-manager of the U.S. Red Cedar Shingle Industry Inc.

The optimism was based on an order signed by President Roosevelt three days ago limiting Canadian red cedar shingle imports to 1,048,262 squares during the first six months of this year, compared with 1,419,747 squares during the last six months of 1936.

American red cedar shingles are produced only in Washington, Oregon and Idaho, and 85 per cent of that figure is produced in Washington.

IMMIGRATION VIEWS SUGGESTED

Canadian Press

Ottawa, March 16.—J. S. Woodsworth, C.C.F. leader, yesterday sought assurance no new immigration policy would be adopted by the government without Parliament being consulted. In the House of Commons he referred to a memorandum being circulated which stated the "resumption of British immigration on a considerable scale is now under consideration" by the Department of Mines and Resources.

Hon. T. A. Crerar, head of the department, said the department was not responsible for the memorandum and that Mr. Woodsworth would have opportunity to say anything he wished about the government's policy.

Mr. Woodsworth said the answer was not satisfactory and Mr. Crerar replied it covered the question.

Hon. Ernest Lapointe, Minister of Justice, said the question was improper anyway.

Snowed in At Cobble Hill

Contrasting with the spring weather in Victoria, winter in piled snowdrifts still holds in its grip settlements but a few miles distant up the island. Here is a picture taken on March 11 at Cobble Hill showing the snow from the recent storms banked up to a height of four feet eight inches. A resident is surveying the scene with the roof of the Cobble Hill general store in the background. The unusual situation has created so much interest in the district that a competition is being arranged to determine when the last of the snow will disappear.

Strikes Close Detroit Hotels

Police Throw Cordon Round One Building Following Scuffle

Associated Press

Detroit, March 16.—Police threw a line of guards around the Book Cadillac Hotel, shortly after noon today, following a scuffle between union organizers and a hotel guard in which a shot was fired.

The disturbance was the first in a series of strikes which resulted in suspension of service in Detroit's four largest hotels this morning.

The twenty-nine story Book Cadillac, the twenty-one story Fort Shelby and the fifteen-story Detroit Leland were closed to avert strikes which had closed the fifteen-story Statler, where 400 employees "sat down" late yesterday.

About thirty men, said by police to have been led by Floyd A. Loew, organizer for the Waiters' and waitresses' Union, brushed aside two policemen and entered the Book Cadillac Hotel through a rear door.

Inside the hotel, they were stopped by Harold Ward, a hotel guard. Ward said the man demanded his keys. A scuffle followed during which a pistol belonging to Ward was discharged. The shot went into the floor.

Governor Frank Murphy of Michigan arranged to come here from Lansing for a conference this afternoon with hotel men and representatives of the several unions which called the Statler strike.

NEW ATTEMPT TO END COMA

Psychiatrist Seeks to Awaken Mrs. Helen Love at Los Angeles

Associated Press

Los Angeles, March 16.—A psychiatrist prepared today for a second attempt to rouse Mrs. Helen Wills Love from the strange trance into which she lapsed four days ago after declaring "I can will myself to die."

Dr. Samuel Marcus, psychiatrist, said he was partially successful in arousing the convicted husband-slayer yesterday by rubbing her eyelids and applying pressure behind her ears. She twitched slightly and murmured:

"Don't, Harry, don't."

It was her first reaction since she went into her strange coma a few hours after a jury had convicted her of a second-degree murder for shooting Harry Love New Year's Eve at a Santa Monica beach club. Mrs. Love, who said she was his secret bride, claimed he was accidentally wounded when they struggled for a pistol.

HYPNOTIS IMMPOSSIBLE

New York, March 16 (Associated Press).—Hypnotism as a means of rousing Mrs. Helen Wills Love from her self-induced trance, in the Los Angeles case attracting wide interest, was declared impossible today by Joseph Dunninger, noted hypnotist.

"Without the consent of the subject, hypnotism is absolutely impossible," he said, commenting on the attempts of a Los Angeles physician to awaken Mrs. Love by that method.

Dunninger, who has treated shell-shock patients and narcotic drug victims by hypnosis, said if Mrs. Love remains in her trance too long, she will slowly lose control and drift into death.

FURTHER HELP FOR VETERANS

Commission Recommends Non-pensioned Relief Men Be Brought Up to Scale

Canadian Press

Ottawa, March 16.—Further assistance for non-pensioned veterans now on relief, so as to bring their unemployment assistance up to the basic rate of the Department of Pensions and National Health in cases where it is smaller, is a majority recommendation of the Veterans' Assistance Commission in an interim report tabled in the House of Commons yesterday by Hon. C. G. Power, Minister of Pensions and National Health.

Total cost on this temporary relief supplement is estimated at $1,023,138.

The commission recommends: Reconditioning and vocational training at government expense, where direct benefit would result; payment of claims of industrially-injured war pensioners to workmen's compensation boards and employers; survey of each government department for possibility of absorbing further veterans into government service; preference for veterans on defence department projects; encouraging veteran employment by contractors by requiring report on percentage of veterans employed.

MONTHLY AMOUNTS

The proposal would provide not more than $10 a month extra for a married veteran, and $5 a month for an unmarried veteran, where their local unemployment assistance at present is less than the department's rate.

The commission concluded about two-thirds of the total unemployed veterans are unskilled or only trained in work which makes competition with men thirty years younger "a rather hopeless struggle."

CANADA'S DEBT TO MINING TOLD

Quebec Minister of Roads Stresses Importance of Industry at Institute Convention

Canadian Press

Montreal, March 16.—The time has come to impress on Canadians that the mining industry has grown from a fledgling into one of the leading industries in the Dominion, Hon. P. J. Leduc, Quebec Minister of Roads, told the annual meeting of the Canadian Institute of Mining and Metallurgy here yesterday.

Quebec intended to build roads to assist development of new mining areas as fast as government facilities permit, he said.

Lt.-Col. G. E. Cole of Winnipeg, retiring president, urged creation of a professional section in the organization to be its "backbone" and of a calibre to make non-professional men associated with mining and metallurgy eager to join the institute.

Canada's mineral production increased in 1936 to an all-time record of $361,394,062, W. H. Losee of the Dominion Bureau of Statistics, told the business meeting. Gains were general in all groups. Total value of metal production of $258,952,236, represented 71 per cent of the total value of the Dominion's mineral production.

Ottawa March 16 (Canadian Press).—Examination papers written by candidates for civil service positions will not be produced in the House of Commons. Secretary of State Fernand Rinfret yesterday afternoon said it had never been done and would not be in the public interest. A motion sponsored by Dr. Hermas Deslauriers, Liberal, St. Mary-Montreal, asking for certain papers, was dropped.

Report of Government Merchant Marine Shows That Passengers and Freight Increased in 1936

Canadian Press

Ottawa, March 16.—Canadian National (West Indies) Steamships Ltd. was able to show a surplus after bond interest on 1936 operations for the first time in its history.

The report was tabled yesterday in the House of Commons by Hon. C. D. Howe, Minister of Transport, to whom it was submitted by President S. J. Hungerford on behalf of the directors.

After paying bond interest there was an income surplus of $87,398 to be paid the government, compared with an income deficit of $269,969 which had to be provided by the government in 1935.

Gross operating revenues for the year amounted to $4,322,592, against $3,816,245 in 1935, an increase of $506,347. Operating expenses for the year were $3,765,194 compared with $3,616,214 in 1935, an increase of $148,980. The increase in operating expenses was only 4.12 per cent while the increase in revenue was 13.7 per cent.

The increased expense was occasioned principally by the handling expense of the additional tonnage, the report said. Operating profit for the year was $557,398 against $200,030 in the previous year, an increase of $357,368 accounts of the steamship company are kept apart from the Canadian National Railways.

MORE PASSENGERS

The number of completed voyages was 128, two less than in the preceding year. Passenger travel was stated to be exceptionally good, all vessels being booked the greater part of the year. Passenger revenues increased $131,900. Freight revenues increased $349,606. There was a notable increase in banana shipments to Canada.

The report of the final year of operation of the Canadian Government Merchant Marine also submitted to Mr. Howe by the president showed gross revenues for 1936 of $2,216,441 against $2,764,549 for 1935, a decrease of $548,108, and a total of $1,912,936 operating expenses against $2,452,726 in the previous year, a decrease of $539,790. Operating profit was $303,505 against $311,822 for 1935, a decrease of $8,317.

The report said that in connection with the decreases in revenue and profit it should be remembered that there were only seventeen completed voyages to Australia and New Zealand ports during the year as against twenty-four in 1935.

The operating ratio was reduced to 86.30 compared with 88.72 in the previous year.

Under authority of an order-in-council, approved April 27, 1936, the vessels of the fleet were sold to the Montreal-Australia-New Zealand Line Ltd., which will continue the services formerly operated by the Canadian Government Merchant Marine.

"In winding up the affairs of the company," the report concluded, "adequate provision has been made for pensions to those entitled thereto."

U.S. NAVAL HERO DIES

Admiral Richmond Hobson Awarded Congressional Medal of Honor

Associated Press

New York, March 16.—Rear Admiral Richmond P. Hobson, sixty-six, United States Navy Spanish-American war naval hero, died of a heart attack at his home, 1455 Lexington Avenue, today.

Rear-admiral Hobson graduated from the United States Naval Academy at Annapolis in 1889 and from Ecole d'Application du Genie Maritime, at Paris, in 1893.

In 1933 he was awarded the Congressional Medal of Honor for sinking the collier Merrimac in 1898, during the Spanish American War.

He served in many parts of the world during his career and was held prisoner in a Spanish fortress for a month in 1898. He was aboard the flagship New York in blockade duty, in the bombardment of Mantanzas, in the expedition against San Juan de Puerto Rico.

He was in the Far East in 1900 and directed the reconstruction, at Hongkong, of three Spanish gunboats. Later he was in charge of the construction department of the United States Navy at Cavite, Philippine Islands. He was also superintendent of naval construction at the Crescent Shipyard, Elizabeth, New Jersey.

The figures for height serve to distinguish high water from low water. Where blanks occur in the tables, the tide rises or falls continuously during three of the usual tidal periods.
The height is in feet and tenths of a foot, measured from the average level of lower low water.

New Freighter Arrives With Torn Forepeak

This interesting picture shows the damaged forepeak of the new British freighter Queen Anne, which is now in the Dominion Government drydock at Esquimalt for survey and possible repairs to the damages she suffered when she ran ashore on Reid Island, off Chemainus, late Saturday evening. All her forward plates, for about twenty feet, are badly torn.

SINKS AFTER GOING ASHORE

Freighter Goes to Bottom Suddenly While Being Towed to St. George's

Canadian Press

Hamilton, Bermuda, March 16.—The Ocean Dominion Line freighter Aristo sank suddenly while being towed to St. George's today, after running aground late yesterday.

The vessel sank when eight miles from St. George's harbor on the northeastern island of Bermuda. Reports from tugs towing the 1,064-ton freighter said she was two-thirds submerged and was expected to be a total loss.

The story of the loss of his freighter was told here today by Capt. Christian Stephenson:

"I gave the order to abandon ship last night when I saw it was hopeless to expect the pumps to keep down the flow of water coming in after we had run aground. I expected the water to reach the boilers any time, and since the ship couldn't be moved, I decided to get the crew away in lifeboats."

The crew of twenty-two men reached St. George's early this morning, the captain said.

Says Britain Losing Trade

Conservative Member Points Out That United States Stepping Into Canadian Air Services

London, March 16.—United States firms were rapidly getting control of the Canadian aircraft market, W. R. Perkins, Conservative, stated in the House of Commons yesterday evening in speaking on the civil aviation portion of the air estimates. Unless Britain provided a suitable freight-carrying machine, the Canadian services would be run and financed from below the border, he said.

Britain's chances of getting the contract for machines to operate the forthcoming trans-Canada Airway service were negligible at present, he affirmed. Britain should endeavor to get the contract by converting six new bombers into civil machines and shipping them to Canada.

More Laborers Used By C.N.R.

Montreal, March 16.—Increased traffic carried by the railways last year furnished work for a large number of additional railroad men. This is indicated by figures released in the annual report of the Canadian National Railways. During 1936 the average number of employees on the payroll of the National system was 78,836, an increase of 3,783 over the average number of employees during 1935. These figures include railway, express and telegraph employees.

The total payroll of the National system last year was $111,221,129, an increase of $6,359,609 over the payroll for the previous year. The percentage of increase in the number of employees was 5.04, while the increase in payroll was 6.06 per cent. During last year labor received the largest share of the Canadian National dollar. Out of every dollar of operating revenue nearly 55 cents went to the workers of the system.

Yacht Going To Cocos Island

J. P. Morgan's palatial yacht Corsair, which is making a winter cruise of the South Seas, reported to the Gonzales Wireless Station yesterday evening at 8 o'clock she was heading for Cocos Island, famed treasure island 600 miles off the coast of Panama.

She gave her position to Gonzales as 1,293 miles west of Cocos Island.

CREW RESCUE IS DESCRIBED

Most Exciting Part Was Motor Drive, Empress of Australia's Crew Relates

Canadian Press

New York, March 16.—The most hair-raising part of the rescue of four men from a wave-swept tanker near Havana, Cuba, last Wednesday by a crew from the Canadian Pacific liner Empress of Australia was the breakneck ride in a police car to the scene of the wreck, Chief Officer W. Stanfield confided yesterday when the ship docked.

Stanfield and a crew of six saved the four men from the tanker "Hopper 62" impaled on the rocks of Cananas Bay, twelve miles from Havana, by firing a life-line from the shore to the tanker. One life-boat had been lowered with the loss of the tanker's captain and five of his crew.

Although there were other ships in the harbor, Cuban officials asked the Canadian ship for aid because of its rocket equipment. Twenty-five minutes after leaving the Empress in a launch, the men from the liner had fired a rocket from the point of land opposite the wreck and sent the sailors a line that served as a 1,200-foot "bridge" to shore.

Stanfield described the motor trip from the docks as a ride "behind a driver, who kept his thumb on the horn and his foot on the floorboards all the way." He said they actually covered the twelve miles in ten minutes, an hour and one-half later the rescue party was back aboard ship and the four rescued men in hospital.

NOTICE TO MARINERS

Mariners are advised that the black wooden platform buoy marking the edge of the shoal ground extending from the south shore of Oyster Harbor, east coast of Vancouver Island, has been discontinued. A wooden platform buoy painted red has been established off the south extreme of Cluster Rocks, Oyster Harbor. The buoy is moored in thirty-six feet of water at low tide.

Lunenburg, N.S., March 16.—Captain George Corkum, Lunenburg, master of the three-masted schooner E. P. Theriault, was acclaimed today for having accomplished one of the most remarkable feats of seamanship in the history of Nova Scotia sailing.

The sailing ship arrived here Sunday, forty-six days out of Turk's Island, in the West Indies, after having navigated for thirty-three days without a rudder through gales.

Seek Reduced School Budget

Council to Call For Arbitration on Education Costs If Further Cut Not Made

The City Council last night decided to serve notice on the city school board it wished a board of arbitration on school costs here, but would not set the machinery of arbitration in motion until the board had had an opportunity to discuss with the council's finance committee further reduction of the educational budget for 1937.

The motion covering that action passed after lengthy debate over the council's ability to deal with the school estimates after March 15, the deadline on which it could take any other than arbitration action for further revision of the figures.

Alderman J. D. Hunter, finance committee chairman, moved to refer the school budget to the estimates committee when the revised draft of 1937 estimates was presented.

Alderman John Worthington suggested they be sent back to the board for further reduction in order to ease the burden of the city taxpayer.

DEADLINE REACHED

In reply to question by Mayor Andrew McGavin, H. S. Pringle, city solicitor, cited the act covering the school board estimates, which stated the council was forced to ask for arbitration or accept the school budget by March 15. A board of arbitration would consist of one appointee named by the council, one by the school board and one chosen by the two appointed.

Alderman W. T. Straith stated he would not be content to let outside appointees arbitrate on the school estimates.

"There's nothing to do but demand arbitration," Alderman Ed. Williams declared.

Alderman R. A. C. Dewar suggested the city should make certain it had a case before calling for arbitration.

Alderman W. Lloyd Morgan referred to press reports of the exceptionally high salaries paid in Victoria as against those of other municipalities.

RIGHT TO ARBITRATION

Alderman James Adam cited the clause in the provincial act which enabled the city to call for arbitration if the school costs were considered altogether too high.

Alderman Worthington repeated his plea to give the taxpayers a "break," saying the present council appeared to have enough courage for that action.

Alderman Dewar explained that city teachers had a high average rate of pay because the majority were veterans of long service who secured a set scale of annual increments.

If the board made further reductions, would the city have to proceed with arbitration even if it had sought that right before securing a greater cut, Alderman Williams asked. He was told the council would not have to go through with arbitration on that consideration.

AMICABLE NEGOTIATIONS

Alderman Straith held the City Council had no right to criticize the other elected body. The trustees had tried to cut their expenses and were good enough sports to negotiate amicably without an arbitration board, he felt.

Assured the city would forfeit its claim to arbitration if it took no action last night, the council then passed the resolution calling for the exercise of that right, but made the proviso that no arbitration machinery would be put into motion until after the finance committee had met the trustees with a view to amicable negotiations for further economies.

Want Longshore Trouble Settled

Vancouver, March 16.—The Vancouver City Council late yesterday authorized Alderman R. P. Pettipiece and Alderman Fred Crone to draft a telegram to the Dominion Government at Ottawa asking the government to name a "competent, unbiased authority" to make a survey of Vancouver's longshore situation with a view of getting it in line with international practice.

Alderman Pettipiece brought the resolution before the council, explaining he wanted the international union recognized by the Shipping Federation here (the body which controls longshoring) so the city "won't be out of step with the rest of the world."

Alderman Crone took exception to the resolution, and after a long argument the council authorized the two aldermen to draft their own telegram and send it to Ottawa.

Late Profit-taking Clips Early Gains On Wall St. Market

New York, March 16.—Stock market leaders jogged into a recovery move today for gains of fractions to two or more points.

At the same time the slowness of the rally inspired profit selling and extreme advances were reduced in many instances in the final hour. There was also a sprinkling of losers at the close. Transfers were around 1,750,000 shares.

OILS ACTIVE AT TORONTO

Canadian Press

Toronto, March 16.—Western oils swung into action this afternoon on the Toronto Mining Market.

Dalhousie traded actively up to 83 for a gain of 30 cents. Home Oil had a little wider gain. Foothills advanced about 10 cents, South West Petroleum 25 cents, Calgary-Edmonton 25 cents, and gains 5 to 10 cents were boarded for Calmont, Highwood, Hargal, East Crest, Mercury and Okalta.

Lake Shore, Buffalo-Ankerite, McIntyre and Dome added fractions and the close was up for Little Long Lac, O'Brien, Teck-Hughes, Wright-Hargreaves and Macassa.

Noranda firmed a fraction, Hudson Bay registered a narrow gain and the close was lower for Waite-Amulet, Sherritt, Pend Oreille, Base Metals Corporation and Falconbridge.

Oils Higher, Golds Steady At Vancouver

Canadian Press

Vancouver, March 15.—Oil stocks came out for sudden upturn during morning dealings on the Vancouver Stock Exchange today, the whole list reflecting a strong tone.

Following advances made in Toronto oil stocks, prices here closed with advances of a few cents to 25 cents in greater demand.

Gold stocks as a whole were steady, while the base metal section tended to drift lower. The market as a whole remained in dull turnover, total sales for the morning amounting to 289,000 shares.

Dalhousie and C. and E. were features on the oil section, both closing with substantial gains. Dalhousie closed 25 cents higher, while C. and E. was up 30 cents. Home Oil was fairly active, closing up 25 cents.

In the base metals group, Pend Oreille and Reeves MacDonald eased 10 cents. Small declines appeared in Whitewater, Lucky Jim, Grandview and Kootenay Flo.

URGES FOREST CONSERVATION

Need Stressed By E. C. Manning in Vancouver Address

Canadian Press

Vancouver, March 16.—Forestry resources in British Columbia are at a dangerously low ebb and remedies will have to be applied quickly if lumbering, hunting and fishing are to be saved, E. C. Manning, chief provincial forester, told a meeting of a branch of the Vancouver Board of Trade yesterday.

Public indifference and commercial exploitation had combined with fire and disease to reduce the forest resources of the province, he said.

He stressed the need for conservation of the forests. The late John P. Babcock, former commissioner of fisheries, had argued and pleaded for conservation for fisheries for twenty-five years, and had failed, Mr. Manning said.

CHIEF BANK

"I suggest to you business men of Vancouver," said the chief forester, "that our forest resources are the real central bank of British Columbia. They stand as automatic governors to our streams. They act as security for our borrowings. They are a splendid investment for our sinking funds. They will pay dividends in good years and bad years. There will be no failure if proper business principles are used in their management. Keep the assets in a productive state and do not dissipate the capital."

Speculative Buying On Winnipeg Market

Canadian Press

Winnipeg, March 16.—Heavy speculative buying credited to continental houses and United States interests sent wheat to new levels on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange today. At the close wheat futures were 1¼ to 1⅞ cents higher with May at $1.34⅛, July $1.31¾ and October $1.21⅗ to $1.21½.

Wheat futures threw off early hesitation and moved into higher ground, fluctuating around 1 to 1⅜ cents higher during the final hour. Profit-taking was well absorbed.

October and July wheat futures set new seasonal highs during the session and reached the highest prices since February, 1930.

Liverpool reflected the strength at Winnipeg yesterday and despite reactions finished ¼ to ⅝d higher. Broomhall reported a let-up in continental demand but said United Kingdom inquiries for Argentine wheat continued on a moderate scale.

The chief stimulus for wheat values here was that the October delivery in the Winnipeg market rose today to a new high price record for the season. Besides, a leading British trade authority intimated importers would have to depend more on Canadian wheat, and that world import estimated needs would be revised upward.

At the close, wheat was ¾ to 1¼ above yesterday's finish, May 1.37 to 1.37⅛, July 1.22¼ to 1.22⅜, corn ⅝ off to 1 cent up; oats at ⅛ decline to ¼ advance, and provisions varying from 5 cents setback to 17 cents gain.

BIG MANOEUVRES STAGED IN EGYPT

Cairo, Egypt, March 16.—While Premier Mussolini of Italy toured neighboring Libya, British and Egyptian troops held the greatest military manoeuvres in Egypt's history today.

Some 8,000 British troops engaged in two important mock battles in the desert southeast of Helouan, along with airplanes and tanks. The manoeuvres were considered the initial major test of recently-mechanized units of the British army. For the first time Egyptian officers assumed executive roles in British army operations.

Large Incomes Canada Reported

Ottawa, March 16.—National Revenue figures today disclosed 304 Canadians with incomes of more than $50,000 a year who contributed $11,055,666 in income tax in the fiscal year ended March 31, 1936. Their average payments to the Federal treasury amounted to $36,367 each.

Total number of individual income taxpayers was 199,102 and the total paid was $32,983,232. Those in the income class under $2,000 numbered 89,724 and contributed $987,387. In the $2,000 to $3,000 group there were 46,198 who paid $1,042,133.

Those receiving from $3,000 to $4,000 numbered 26,804 and contributed $1,125,428, while 12,766 receiving from $4,000 to $5,000 contributed $1,049,783 and 6,759 in the $5,000 to $6,000 class paid $976,905.

LOSSES RULE ON BOND LIST

Associated Press

New York, March 16.—Most United States government obligations yielded to renewed selling today, forcing some into new low ground for the year, despite reassurance from Chairman Eccles of the federal reserve board of a continued policy to maintain low interest rates.

Losses in the federal list ran from 2-32 to 7-32 of a point at one time.

TRADE TREATY VIEWS VOICED

New Pact With Britain Debated in Commons; Meat Exports

Canadian Press

Ottawa, March 16.—Tariff students in the House of Commons have found a wide scope for discussion in the Canada-United Kingdom trade agreement now under consideration by the committee of the whole.

Argument yesterday was confined chiefly to the Conservative protection advocates and the advanced freer trade proponents in the Liberal ranks, but good progress was made with the agreement, indicating the possibility it will have speedy endorsation.

Chief argument arose over the section dealing with marketing of Canadian meats in the United Kingdom, particularly regarding live cattle and bacon. Rt. Hon. R. B. Bennett, Conservative leader, argued Canada could not hope to use the British market as a convenience and the United States market as a regular outlet.

Harry Leader, Liberal, Portage la Prairie, and Hon. H. H. Stevens Reconstructionist, Kootenay East, argued the government should ensure a steady supply of meats would be shipped to the British market so the preference might be held and justified. Mr. Leader suggested subsidies, if necessary, to enable livestock growers to meet the demand consistently.

PENSIONS FOR BLIND

This afternoon the House was scheduled to take up two resolutions of the Minister of Agriculture dealing with regulations for the handling of feedstuffs and seeds, also the bill to extend the privileges of the Old Age Pensions Act to blind, forty or more years old, returning later to consideration of the budget resolutions.

Report Mongol Nation Formed

Mongokuo Patterned on Lines of Manchukuo, Say North China Observers

Associated Press

Kalgan, Chahar Province, China, March 16. — The Mongol hordes of northern China were reported by missionaries today to have declared their independence from China and proclaimed themselves a new nation —Mongokuo—"similar" to the Japanese-sponsored state of Manchukuo.

Unconfirmed reports, brought to this northern outpost of China by missionaries from the snow wastes of northern Chahar, said the irregular troops of the rebellious Mongol prince, Teh Wang, had established the new state with the assistance of Japanese advisers and military men.

The reports said the new nation carved out of northern Chahar province included an area of about 40,000 square miles. Bounded on the north by Outer Mongolia, on the east by Jehol province, already under Japanese domination, and on the west by the strongly fortified Chinese province of Suiyuan, its southern border was said to follow the Great Wall, extending to within twenty miles of Kalgan.

Associated with Prince Teh, long an opponent of the Nanking central government, at Chapser, capital of the new nation, were reported to be some 100 assistants to perfect administrative organization.

JAPANESE CULMINATION

Peiping, March 16.—Informed foreign observers here today accepted reports of the establishment of the independent state of Mongokuo as materialization of a long-rumored Japanese intention in north China.

The Mongol Prince Teh Wang was believed unquestionably to be heading what was termed "Japan's latest venture in puppet regimes on the Asiatic mainland."

NO INFORMATION

Nanking, March 16. — An official spokesman of the central government declared today he had no information concerning reports northern Chahar province had declared its independence. He said he did not believe the reports, although such an event formerly had been considered a possibility and might again be in the future should "Tokio's present conciliatory attitude change."

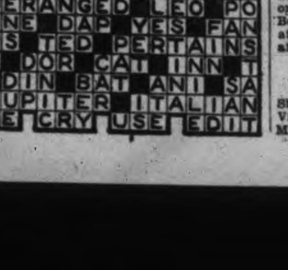
GROUNDLESS, SAYS TOKIO

Tokio, March 16.—Informed sources declared today they believed reports a new nation had been carved out of north China were groundless, and added the barren nature of the country made it unlikely Japan would actively support or promote a Mongol regime there.

T. W. CALDWELL DIES

Ottawa, March 16 (Canadian Press). —Thomas W. Caldwell, sixty-nine, former member of parliament for Victoria-Carleton, died at his home former member of Parliament for 1919 as a Progressive, he was re-elected at the general election in 1921 and served until 1925, when he retired.

Answer to Previous Puzzle



FIFTY PLANES BOMB TOWN

Spanish Loyalists Say Heavy Toll Taken at Brihuega

Associated Press

With the Government Forces in the Guadalajara Sector, March 16.—Fifty government airplanes swooped down on the town of Brihuega (about twelve miles northeast of Guadalajara and forty-four miles from Madrid) and subjected it to a severe bombing.

Government commanders said 760 bombs were dropped on the town and on enemy positions in the immediate vicinity, taking heavy toll among insurgent troops. Insurgent airmen appeared and a fierce battle between opposing pilots began.

Three insurgent ships were shot down while one government plane fell inside its own lines. Dozens of bombing and pursuit planes engaged in the dog-fight.

SKY BATTLE

Madrid, March 16.—Insurgent air raiders, in a running attack on government-held towns near Madrid, fought sky battles with defending pilots today, a government communique announced. Two insurgent planes of alleged Italian manufacture were shot down, the Madrid defence Junta said.

BARCELONA BOMBED

Barcelona, March 16.—Five Spanish insurgent airplanes bombed Barcelona today, killing at least four persons, wounding thirteen and sinking a sailing vessel in the port.

One bomb fell near French warships anchored in the harbor, apparently the main objective of the attack. There were no casualties aboard the sailing ship.

Losses Declared Great; Prices Up

Canadian Press

Ottawa, March 16. — "Colossal losses," which threatened the very existence of the Massey-Harris Company Limited, were the reason for an increase in implement prices in January, 1936, James S. Duncan of Toronto today told the special House of Commons committee investigating farm implement prices.

"We had arrived at the point where we could not stand further losses," said Mr. Duncan, general manager of the company.

Mr. Duncan said he had been told the position of farmers in Canada was so desperate the company officials felt they could not raise prices earlier.
